

RED FEATHER LEADERS considering campaign plans. Winslow H. Adams, Chairman, discusses the Mercantile Division aims with Mrs. John M. Powell and Dwight Colburn, Division Co-Chairman.

Private Health, Social Agencies Benefit From Red Feather Campaign

"It is the private health and social agencies that benefit from the Red Feather Campaign, held each year in the fall, and not the Community Chest," states Winslow H. Adams, Red Feather Campaign Chairman for Newton. "When our 2200 workers ask for subscriptions to support this campaign, it should be remembered that it is not the Newton Community Chest or United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston to whom the contributors give, but it is to the fourteen Newton Red Feather services and the 327 more in Metropolitan Boston that support is given through the two Chest organizations."

To Inspect Purgatory Swamp Area

Mosquito Control officials of the Atlantic States will make a tour of inspection throughout New England between July 11 and 14 and during the inspection will visit Purgatory swamp in Auburndale.

While in Auburndale they will view the area from Lexington street; inspect pumping station at Forest Grove and the Pacific Marine River spraying unit.

This New England tour of inspection will offer a splendid opportunity for Mosquito Control Commissioners and other persons connected with the work to meet men engaged in the field in similar capacities in other states.

146 Pints of Blood Are Donated

146 pints of blood were donated to the Bloodmobile last Thursday and Friday, according to an announcement from the Red Cross Chapter. The blood was donated at the clinics held at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church and at St. Mary's Church, in Newton Upper Falls.

Officials of the blood bank were most grateful for these donations as the need for blood proved great over the week-end holiday just passed.

Garbage Contract Satisfactory

Director of Public Works Willard S. Pratt in a report to Mayor Lockwood, stated that the new garbage contract entered into with Jablonski Bros., Inc., of 15 Needham street, last year, has proven entirely satisfactory. The report states:

"The garbage contract was awarded to the low bidder in the beginning of the year 1949. The award went to Jablonski Bros., Inc., and the methods established by the new contract, and the operation of it, have been very satisfactory."

"The co-operation between the contractor and the city has been ideal, since all material has been weighed, and cost figures will be available from this date forward for yearly comparisons both as to cost and quantities of materials collected."

"This should reflect, over a period of years, the effect of garbage disposal units, and if, at any time in the near future, regulations prohibiting the feeding of swill to hogs should be enacted, the quantities of materials that will be necessary for the city to incinerate, or dispose of by other means, will be available."

City Government Attacked For Failure To Accept State Retirement Act

At a meeting last week, Newton Local 800, City Employees Union, A.F. of L., voted to urge the City to accept the State Retirement Act in its entirety.

President Harry E. Purcell attacked the city government for its failure to approve the petition of the members of the Retirement System and during a lengthy discussion of the Retirement System he said that about three years ago the employees formed the Newton Municipal Council, with a delegate from each of the various departments. Continuing he stated:

"The Council was to be used at all times on problems affecting all departments of the city, but once again the employees received the 'run-around.' The city government has once again ignored the Council, and as before the Council has been forced to petition for a public hearing."

"At our Council meeting, we learned, to our surprise, that a

Private Funeral Services Friday Afternoon For Henry I. Harriman

Henry Ingraham Harriman, 77, of Centre Street, Newton, utility executive and financier, died Tuesday night in Needham.

A pioneer in the development of hydro-electric power in New England, Mr. Harriman organized the Connecticut River Power and New England Power Company, the nucleus of the present New England Electric System.

The 45,000-kilowatt Harriman station on the Deerfield river, one of several hydro-electric stations on that river and the Connecticut built by these companies, was named for him.

He served as president of New England Power Company, New England Power Association and as officer and director of several other utilities in New England.

Private funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Eliot Church, Newton.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eunice Alberta Milliken of Needham, and a son, Gordon Douglas Harriman, of Dallas, Texas.

Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1872, Mr. Harriman was graduated from Adelphi Academy, Brooklyn; Wesleyan University in 1895, and received his LL.B. degree from New York Law School in 1897 and Ph.D. degree from Wesleyan in 1930.

Among many public positions he held are: chairman, Public Trustee of Boston Elevated Railway; president, Boston Chamber of Commerce; president and director, Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and chairman, Division of Metropolitan Planning for Greater Boston.

Also: vice-chairman, Massachusetts State Planning Board; employers' representative for the United States, International Labor Conference, Geneva; member, American Youth Commission; member, Business Advisory (Continued on Page 5)

Osbourne Re-elected President

Edward F. Osbourne was re-elected president of the Newton Public School Custodians' Association last week at the meeting in the Technical School, Newtonville. Other officers are: Joseph Casey, vice-president; Michael Critch, secretary; Arthur Rogers, financial secretary; Joseph Mendolia, treasurer; and William O. Fanning, auditor for two years.

Those named to the executive board were: Richard Sweetman, George I. Francis, John H. Ross, Amos Oldfield, and Austin Morgan.

Six delegates were named to attend the state convention in New Bedford, July 12, the main object of the convention being to elect new officers. Those named are: Joseph Mendolia, Madeline Magee, Patsy Baccari, Cathryn Lill, Rose Lunny, and Joseph Casey. Alternates are Austin Morgan and Arthur Swanson.

Mr. Osbourne, currently vice-president in the Massachusetts organization, and Mr. Critch will also attend.

few members of the Council received special invitations from the mayor to discuss retirement problems. Any opinion they may have expressed is their own and not the opinion of the Council. Two years ago when many of you that you had gained the State Retirement Act, you were surprised to find you still had the buck system with a new look.

"There are now about 856 employees under this contributory system and I believe it is an insult to the intelligence of the employees when the city government tells them what kind of pension is best for them. After all, the employee is paying for it and he or she should be given every consideration. Newton is the only city in the state that has not accepted the State Retirement Act."

Is Named Alumni Term Member

C. Adrian Sawyer, Jr., of 57 Dorset road, Waban, has been elected an alumni term member of the Corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, according to an announcement of Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., president of the Institute.

Memorial School Nursery Project Given Approval

Plans originated by the Oak Hill Park Association for permission to operate a nursery school in the new Memorial School which is expected to open in September, have been approved and the project will be financed by the parents.

As an initial step, the organization is now conducting a census of children of nursery school age and cards have been sent to parents asking them to list the birthday by year, month and day of each child and state whether they would be interested in a nursery school not to exceed $2.25 per week. They also seek to determine if the parents are interested in adult education classes in the Memorial School and if so, what subjects of courses would be of interest to them.

The notice sent to the parents states:

Miss Beryl Condon Weds Mr. Nathan Sanford Clark

In the Eliot Church Newton, at 4 o'clock, Friday, June 30, Miss Beryl Condon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ralph Condon of Newton, was married to Mr. Nathan Sanford Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan S. Clark of West Newton. The Rev. Ray A. Eusden performed the ceremony and a reception followed at the Woodland Golf Club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white marquisette with a Chantilly lace-edged bertha and lace ruffles. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a lace tiara with orange blossoms, and she carried lilies-of-the-valley with fleurs d'amour. As matron of honor, Mrs. Lawrence G. Brown of Lynn carried a bouquet of yellow and orchid garden flowers and wore a buttercup yellow organdy gown. The bridesmaids, who wore seafoam green organdy gowns and carried baskets of garden flowers, were Mrs. James H. Goddard, Jr., of Brunswick, Maine, Miss Jean Thomas of New York City, Miss Virginia Mitchell of Newton, and Miss Betsy Cutler of Newton. Kenneth Peterson of Fishkill, New York, a nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The best man was Mr. Lawrence G. Brown, and the ushers included Mr. Robert Perkins of West Newton, Mr. Charles Kilgore of Newtonville, Mr. Charles Robinson of Waltham, and Mr. Alan Johnson of Arlington. The bride was graduated from Colby Junior College, also from Wheelock College. Mr. Clark was graduated from Wentworth Institute. Following a wedding trip they will reside in West Newton.

Junior III of Warren Junior High Honors Memory of E. Warren Blue

To the music of the school band the members of Junior III marched into the auditorium last Friday for their final assembly at the Warren Junior High School. The program, under the direction of Mrs. Priscilla Daudelin assisted by Junior III homeroom teachers, was presided over by the class president, Donald Sanders.

Much merriment was caused by the reading of the histories of the class' three years at Warren—Junior I read by Patty Judah, Junior II by Beverly O'Brien, and Junior III by Loring Littlefield. Gales of laughter, however, rang through the hall as the class will be read by Malcolm Jones.

The president of the class presented a check as the class gift to the principal, Paul C. Scarborough, to be used to pay for three portraits of Mr. E. Warren Blue, Junior II teacher who died during the school year; one portrait to be presented to his wife, another to his sister, and the third to hang in the new gymnasium when it is added to the building in the near future. The balance of the check is to be used for a plaque to be placed in the gymnasium in memory of Mr. Blue. The class also requested that, if possible, the new gymnasium be named in his honor.

Following the announcement by Mr. Scarborough, the girls' color team trophy, which has been held this year by the Red Team, was presented by their captain, Shirley Hutchinson, to this year's winner of the trophy, the Blue Team, who will hold it through next year.

Mr. Scarborough also awarded school numerals, seals and pins to those members of Junior I, II and III who had earned the required points for services to the school.

School pins were also presented to three members of the school community who are ending their services at Warren this June. Miss Alice Philbrick, teacher of vocal music, is retiring after serving with the school since its opening. Miss Myra P. Dority, school nurse, has been ill for several months, and Mr. Christian Frank, school custodian for many years, has been on leave of absence because of ill health.

The highest award granted by the school is the Lt. Simon Subarian Memorial Award which is made to the Junior III boy and the Junior III girl who are selected for outstanding citizenship and participation in athletics. This year these awards were presented to Dennis Kuntz and Shirley Swaine.

Independence Day

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I should like to congratulate the communities in Newton which have planned activities and ceremonies commemorating the Fourth of July. It is particularly appropriate that they should have done so, as it seems to me that this year, the Fourth of July is of singular significance to all of us.

About 175 years ago our forefathers banded together in a common purpose, to declare their independence from the tyrannies of an autocratic monarch and to establish a federation of states, where men could govern themselves within a framework of personal and political freedom. The patriots who thus united to rid their country of oppression had no common language, and the thirteen colonies which had been settled were frequently different backgrounds, customs, and point of view as were the European countries whence their inhabitants had come. There were Englishmen in Washington's army, Frenchmen, Germans, Irish, Dutch, Scandinavians, Italians, and Scots. For them to overcome their ancient barriers of language, prejudice, and religious environment, and to unite in the cause of freedom was no easy task. It took courage and understanding, welded together by the urgency of the hour. What is more important, they succeeded, and a new nation was born.

In 1950 the Fourth of July sees the free world facing much the same situation as faced our colonial forebears so long ago. An autocratic dictatorship has threatened to impose its political terrorism on the rest of the international community. This threat has been implemented by armed attack in Korea. The United States, at the behest of the United Nations, has undertaken to put an end to the armed aggression, threatening the peace of the world. Other countries of the world, at present 34, have likewise offered material help, according to their capacities to contribute. It is at the same time sobering and immensely significant to realize that soldiers of many nationalities may be fighting side by side, with our own, under the blue and white flag of the United Nations. We pray God this will not be necessary, but the fact that in part it has occurred, that the way has been opened for free men all over the world, irrespective of background, to once again band together to declare their independence from the forces of tyranny, and to build the foundation of a lasting international community, lends profound and singular meaning to our Fourth of July celebration this year.

Sincerely,

Christian A. Herter, Jr.

Miss Claire Ruth Harding Weds Mr. Eliot F. Richardson

Tall vases of lavender-shade flowers, ferns, and candelabra decorated the Newton Highlands Congregational Church Saturday, June 24, for the marriage of Miss Claire Ruth Harding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harding, 219 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, to Mr. Eliot Francis Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis Richardson, 206 Winslow road, Waban. Rev. Frederic Groetsema officiated at the double ring ceremony, which took place at 4:30 p.m. Mrs. George Winthrop Brainerd Jr., was her sister's matron of honor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of antique satin fashions with a snug bodice, long pointed sleeves, a sheer nylon yoke, and a bertha of Chantilly lace embroidered with iridescent sequins. Her full skirt terminated into a cathedral train. Her tulle veil reached the length of the train and was caught to a crown of heirloom lace which was worn by her maternal grandmother. She carried a satin prayer book with ribbon markers dotted with stephanotis.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids, Miss Joan Adams, Miss Doris Ahlstrom, Miss Jean Charlton, Miss Anne Harding, sister of the bride, Mrs. Martin Lathy, and Miss Janet Young, wore ballerina orchid organza embroidered in white, matching mitts and net picture hats. They carried fans with orchid shaded flowers. Mrs. Brainerd's hat was deep purple; the hats of the bridesmaids were trimmed with orchid. The flower girl, Miss Gail Groetsema of Newton Highlands, wore the same dress as the other attendants, and a poke bonnet with pink shaded flowers.

Mrs. Harding wore a ballerina-length navy lace over white nylon dress with a matching picture hat. She wore a corsage of rubrum lilies. Mrs. Richardson wore a ballerina-length delft blue lace dress, with a cocoa-shaded picture hat and accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Mr. Donald Richardson of Waban, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Kenneth Richardson, brother of the groom; John Harding Jr., brother of the bride; Ronald Hardy, Vincent McCarthy, Donald Page, Robert Snow Jr.

The reception immediately followed the ceremony, and was held in the Parish Church house.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School and graduated in the Class of 1950 from the Boston University College of Practical Arts and Letters. She was a member of the Pi Kappa Epsilon Sorority. The groom is a graduate of Newton High School and Wentworth Institute. He is now occupied as an electronic technician.

After a motor trip through the White Mountains and New York State, the couple will live in Waltham after July 15th.

Greyhounds Vie For Top Honors

Lacking four days of the half way mark of Wonderland's 100 day meet, owner Higley G. Alderson leads his nearest competitor by 10 victories. Alderson who was voted America's outstanding greyhound owner for 1949 is more than living up to his reputation. Out of 134 starts his canine speedsters have been in the money a total of 64 times and out of the 64, 32 have been firsts with 14 seconds and 18 thirds.

Some of the greyhounds who are helping Alderson to establish this enviable record of finishing in the money better than 50 per cent of the time are Hidden Thoughts, Refreshing, Skirts and Laughter. These star performers have made 42 starts and have been in the money 25 times with 17 of them wins.

Mrs. Bess Prevatt has the distinction of being the leading woman owner at Wonderland besides holding the number two spot for the most winners. Mrs. Prevatt nosed out Oscar Evers by one victory, with 22 wins to 21. Mrs. Prevatt's record to date shows 22 firsts, 18 seconds and 19 thirds in 138 starts; while Evers has 21 wins, 17 seconds and 19 thirds in 99 starts.

Several of the other owners who are attempting to take over Alderson's position on the roster of purse winners at the Beach City racing oval are H. B. Diamond with 19 firsts, 17 seconds and 18 thirds in 138 starts; James A. Boyle with 19 firsts, 12 seconds and 9 thirds in 106 starts; R. K. Hutchings with 18 firsts, 22 seconds and 22 thirds in 136 starts; L. W. Randall with 18 firsts, 19 seconds and 16 thirds in 122 starts and James Ryan with 18 firsts, 11 seconds and 13 thirds in 106 starts.

This Saturday at Wonderland the finals for the Essex County 7/16 mile championships will be held.

SFC Bernard L. Asquith Now In Yokohama, Japan

SFC Bernard L. Asquith, Headquarters Company, Yokohama Command, has been found qualified in the military occupational specialties of military policemen and general clerk. Acquired largely through his Army training and experience, these qualifications will aid Sergeant Asquith to obtain advancement under the new Career Plan which is to govern all promotions in enlisted and warrant grades.

Stationed in Yokohama, Japan's major port city and seat of the headquarters of the Eighth Army, Sergeant Asquith is filling an essential job with the Army's Occupational Forces. To occupy his leisure hours, he has access to theaters, clubs, libraries, evening classes, a gymnasium, bowling alleys, volleyball and tennis courts, a golf course, as well as the picturesque scenery of this ancient country.

Entering the Army in June 1943, he arrived in Japan in December 1949. He is the nephew of Mrs. Florence E. Veinotte of 147 Cypress street, Newton Centre.

The extent to which surplus inventories of stock are built up by some Federal Agencies was recently pointed out to the House Appropriations Committee by Jess Larson, General Services Administrator. He said one agency had a supply of tracing cloth which would last them 9 years, enough fluorescent light tubes to last 93 years, sufficient ruled filler paper to last 168 years and a stock of loose leaf binders which would last them 247 years.

Dangerous Tools

Dynamite blasting cap accidents suffered by children increase every year during the summer vacation period.

Children or adults finding a blasting cap are warned to leave it alone and report it immediately to the police or fire department.

Blasting caps are small, round copper or aluminum cylinders or tubes about one-quarter of an inch in diameter and an inch or two in length. Some may or may not have a fuse attached, while others may have plain or colored covered wires leading from one end. The tube or cylinder is loaded with a powerful and sensitive explosive used to explode dynamite.

Often blasting caps are lost, stolen, or left lying around in unlocked tool boxes, barns, or alongside of highways and railroad tracks. Children who find them are in great danger so long as they are near them.

Workmen are cautioned to keep all explosives under strong lock and key. The child they save may be their own.

War trophies? Well it would be an excellent idea to have them examined by an expert to insure that they are harmless.

The Time Has Come

In a united effort to halt a rapidly rising increase in fatal automobile accidents, Massachusetts has been asked to join the 47 other states in a nation-wide crackdown on speeding and drinking motor vehicle operators.

Declaring that speeding and the use of alcoholic beverages are the primary causes of highway accidents, a resolution cites the National Safety Council as authority for the statement that deaths due to motor vehicle accidents rose 11 percent during the first four months of this year over the corresponding period in 1949. It further pointed out that two-thirds of all such fatalities occurred on rural highways, where excessive speeds are far easier than in crowded urban streets.

It also reports that statistics from 22 states reveal that over 17% of the drivers involved in fatal accidents had been drinking and that 23% of the adult pedestrians involved in such accidents also had been drinking. Over the nation as a whole, 25% of the motor vehicle drivers of pedestrians involved in fatal accidents were reported to have been drinking. Approximately 12% of the drivers who were found violating traffic laws in 1948 were under the influence of alcohol at the time.

Surely the time has come for state, county and municipal officials to recognize that excessive speed and the use of alcoholic beverages by drivers are the primary causes of motor vehicle accidents on our highways and take firm action to enforce the laws which prescribe safe speed limits for given highway conditions and forbid the operation of a motor vehicle by any person who is under the influence of an intoxicating beverage.

Current Comment

Daniel Tyler, New State GOP Chairman . . . Weeks Will Be the Real Policy Maker . . . Southern Democrats Still Against Truman . . .

Brookline Selectman Daniel Tyler, Jr., faces a tough job in his new role as chairman of the Republican State Committee for it was evident at last week's meeting of that body that there is a feeling of unrest, uncertainty and a lack of confidence concerning the coming State campaign.

Former Chairman Mason Sears didn't help much in his insistence that the G.O.P. should find another candidate for the Governorship than any of the four now running because most Republicans believe that the man who will carry their party's banners against Governor Dever next autumn will be either Clarence A. Barnes, Arthur W. Coolidge or Judge Frankland W. L. Miles.

A good deal of bitterness toward Sears was indicated by the committee members. A few sided with him and expressed the hope that he will be successful in persuading Denfeld to enter the gubernatorial race. But a much larger number offered the opinion that Sears has been performing a disservice for the Republican party.

"In effect," one of the committeemen declared to the writer, "Sears has told the people of Massachusetts that none of the candidates now seeking the Republican nomination for Governor meets his requirements and specifications, and he made that clear at a time when he was chairman of the Republican State Committee."

"The trouble with all that is that one of the four candidates now in the field probably will be the Republican candidate for Governor, and whoever it is will be reminded next fall by the Democrats that Sears didn't think much of him."

"The fact that Sears says he will support whomever wins the nomination doesn't do much good. Actually, he's just furnishing ammunition for the Democrats."

That sentiment was echoed by a number of G.O.P. workers. They believe that Sears stirred up considerable discord and dissension in their party ranks and that he should have steered a strictly non-partisan course while he was serving as chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Chairman Tyler was obviously aware of this feeling for in his acceptance speech he said he could best serve the interest of the party by remaining completely neutral until after the September primaries. In other words, he is adopting just the opposite policy from that followed by Sears.

The Republican State Committee meeting and election were held behind closed doors, and it was not until the last argument had been made and the final vote tallied that newspaper reporters were admitted to the Hawthorne Room at the Parker House.

Mr. Sears hurried out of the session earlier. He seemed somewhat disgruntled, and he had only noncommittal replies for the questions directed at him by newsmen. He didn't even say he thought Tyler would be a good chairman although that would have been the routine answer to one of the queries.

"I have no comment," was his only statement. "I'm an ex now," meaning, of course, that he no longer spoke as chairman.

That was one of the points made by some of his critics who observed that no one would care particularly whether Sears was trying to draft Admiral Denfeld or not if it were not for the fact that up until last Thursday night he was acting and speaking as chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Sears is one of the political lieutenants of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and when he originally became chairman it was remarked that Lodge was the new G.O.P. leader in Massachusetts. But Senator Lodge has been too completely absorbed in his duties at Washington to pay much attention to what was happening back home.

The election of Sears as the new chairman of the Republican State Committee saw Sinclair Weeks move back to his former role as the Bay State's G.O.P. boss.

Weeks was edged into the background at the Republican national convention in 1948 when he undertook to spearhead a stop-Dever movement and ex-Governor Bradford successfully challenged him and lined up a majority of the Massachusetts delegates for the New York Governor.

The bitterness generated at that time is considered to be the reason the members of the Week's wing have made no effort to persuade Bradford to run for the Governorship even though most political observers consider him potentially the strongest candidate the G.O.P. could nominate.

Weeks, however, was pulling the strings at the Republican State Committee session. It was he who moved that Tyler be elected a member-at-large of the State Committee, and it was he who later nominated Tyler for the chairmanship.

While Tyler officially will be the man who will try to pull the G. O. P. together for its fight next autumn, the policy-maker actually doing the directing from behind the scenes will be Sinclair Weeks.

From all reports the feeling against President Truman is just as strong now in some of the Southern States as it was at the last Democratic national convention and later when the Dixiecrats presented a ticket of their own and succeeded in taking 39 electoral votes out of the Democratic column.

Opponents in a hot battle for the Democratic nomination for the Senate in South Carolina are Governor J. Strom Thurmond, the Dixiecrat candidate for President in '48, and Senator Olin D. Johnston, who attracted nationwide attention that same year by purchasing a front-row table at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Washington and then leaving it vacant.

Thurmond is campaigning on the ground that his record of opposition to the President has been unbroken, and he has flayed Johnston because the latter hustled to make peace with Mr. Truman following his surprise victory.

Jimmy Byrnes evidently is assured of election as South Carolina's next Governor, and although he served as Secretary of State under President Truman he is just about as much a Dixiecrat as Thurmond and Johnston.

Some political experts in the South believe the Dixiecrats will rally around Byrnes as their candidate for President two years from now. Maybe they will, but some Washington observers who remember when Byrnes steered New Deal legislation through the Senate for Franklin D. Roosevelt wonder just how many sides a man can have as they now hear that Byrnes is an extreme conservative.

The defeat of liberal Senator Frank P. Graham in the North Carolina primary was also a blow to the Truman administration. One of the charges hurled at Graham was that he had served on President Truman's Civic Rights Commission.

Graham's setback probably means that a strong effort will be made to have North Carolina join South Carolina, Mississippi and the other Dixiecrat States in a revolt against the Democratic party in 1952, but the regular Democrats are a good deal stronger in North Carolina than they are in South Carolina.

While most Washington experts do not believe that the fighting in Korea will touch off a third world war, they all hasten to point out that the Russians are unpredictable and that no one can be certain exactly what they might do.

All the evidence so far indicates that the Soviets intend to maintain at least the pretense of a hands-off attitude. It may be significant, for example, that the Russians quickly quieted Communists in Eastern Germany who had begun a drive demanding that Moscow intervene militarily in Korea.

If Stalin wants another war, he will pick the time for it. Most competent military authorities don't think he wants one now.

Frank Buss was arraigned in a Detroit court on a charge of biting a police officer. He was given a suspended sentence when the judge discovered he had no teeth.

Daniel A. Marra admitted in a Pittsburgh court that he used to beat his wife but declared that he gave up the practice "when I found out it was not doing any good."

(Compiled by State Planning Board)

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . Of 44 leading industrial centers in Massachusetts, the ten having the highest average factory wage earnings per worker during May were: Chicopee $63.68 per week, Quincy $63.22, Beverly $62.55, Norwood $62.52, Pittsfield $61.67, West Springfield $60.63, Lynn $59.98, Worcester $59.94, Peabody $58.08 and Everett $58.04, as reported by Department of Labor and Industries . . . The Federal Reserve Bank's tourist index reports a new high record in reservations for boys' and girls' camps in Massachusetts this season, with special increase in camps coming from New York and New Jersey. . . Imports to the Massachusetts customs district during April were valued at $40,200,000, which was more than in any of the 45 other United States districts except New York . . . Current need for local planning and zoning regulations is emphasized by the fact that close to 85% of the new single-family homes of the Boston metropolitan area are being built in newly developed sections . . . Of the 39 unemployment areas in Massachusetts, the five reporting the lowest ratio of claims for unemployment compensation are Newton, with 10.6 claims per 1,000 residents, Woburn 13.4, Norwood 14.4, Pittsfield 15.0 and Quincy 15.6. Ratios for the individual areas range from 10.6 to 80.4 claims per 1,000 residents. . . The town of Groton has prepared a zoning by-law for presentation at a future town meeting.

Pets Should Be Provided for Before Vacation

An appeal to pet owners planning a summer vacation to give thought to arrangements for the care of their pets was made by Carlton E. Buttrick, President, Animal Rescue League of Boston. Mr. Buttrick suggested that those people who have a pet and intend to spend a vacation away from home without the family cat or other animal with them, should be sure to make arrangements for the pet well in advance of their departure date. Animals, and cats in particular, have an uncanny way of sensing in advance any change in their ordinary routine. Consequently it is a good idea to keep cats as well as other animals under restraint or surveillance while out of doors when vacation time is imminent, so that the animal will not be among the missing when the actual moment of departure is at hand.

Newton Boy Scouts Join Jamboree

Newton, Wellesley, and Weston Boy Scouts and Explorers and their leaders have been taking part the past week in the Second National Jamboree in Valley Forge, Penna., where 4700 Scouts from the 48 states and approximately 20 foreign countries joined them. They camped out, cooked their food on grills which they brought, together with cooking utensils, tents, and other camping equipment. The Norumbega Scouts prepared for the Jamboree at a 3-day outing at Camp Child of Old Colony Council in Plymouth. Here they tested equipment and learned how to fix the outdoor meals they were going to eat all this past week, such as the meal of July 6 which consisted of charcoal broiled steak, peas, Pennsylvania Dutch fried potatoes, lettuce salad with Russian dressing, bread, butter, cake with crushed pineapple, and milk.

Accompanying the Scouts were Scoutmaster Edward Ross, Assistant Scoutmaster Salvatore DeFazio, and Assistant Scoutmaster F. C. Williams.

The boys were: Arnold Fales, John Barrell, George Higgins Jr., James Fox, Arthur Alexander, Richard R. Barnes, Edward B. Bradley, Robert Forbes, Rodney T. Geiman, William K. Davis, Salvatore DeFazio III, Arthur F. Veinott Jr., Charles Wallace, John N. Watters, Lee Isgur, Philip E. Jennings, Robert L. Lienau, Lincoln Cummings, Daniel W. Fawcett, Allan T. Weston, Richard Wilson, David William, William Young, Stephen V. Gilligan Jr., Robert L. Thomason, Harold Smedal, John Sanderson, Paul Sanroma, James Riggs, Jesse Putney, David Perrini, Latham A. Nichols, and Andrew Nichols.

Other boys of Norumbega went with Algonquin Council of Framingham. They were: Warren Dedrick, Russell Winslow, Robert Straley, Newton T. Peck, Fred Nobbs, John C. Kavanaugh, Charles Weden, James Dunn Jr., Francis Grayson, and Richard Wulf.

Nigel Bruce to Be At Wellesley In "Yes M'Lord"

Nigel Bruce, veteran star of stage and screen, has been signed for the title role of "Yes M'Lord," by Douglas Home, at the Wellesley College Theatre School for the week of July 25. It was announced by Eldon Winkler, Executive Director. Mr. Bruce is particularly well-known to American movie audiences for his work in such films as "The Hound of Baskervilles," "Rebecca," "This Above All" and many others.

Patricia White, radio screen and television star, will return for her third season and will be featured with Mr. Bruce.

The Wellesley College Theatre School will open its season July 11, with Bert Lytell and Madge Evans who will be co-starred in Fay Kanin's recent Broadway success, "Goodbye My Fancy."

To Meet in Unitarian Church

The new Temple Shalom of Newton is going to hold its Friday Evening Services in the West Newton Unitarian Church. The members of the Church voted unanimously in favor of lending the facilities of the Church to the new 230-family congregation until it is able to buy or build its own Temple.

Recently The Second Church in Newton, West Newton, extended to Temple Shalom the use of its premises for Saturday morning Services and several other religious organizations have done the same; but until last Tuesday, when the vote was passed at the Unitarian Church, the new Temple had no meeting place upon which it could regularly depend.

Dou You Know Massachusetts?

(Compiled by State Planning Board)

DO YOU KNOW THAT... The small towns, particularly the suburban ones, are far outstripping the cities and larger towns in rate of population growth. Of 115 Massachusetts places for which the 1950 population census has been reported, the towns under 10,000 showed an average increase of about 22 per cent over 1940, whereas the average of places between 10,000 and 30,000 increased 6.6 per cent and those above 30,000 increased only 3 per cent. . . . A few outstanding places in the middle-size group, among those reported, were Natick, which grew 42 per cent, Lexington 30 per cent and Reading 28 per cent. . . . Of the 14,318 immigrant aliens who landed at Boston port during 1949, 13,111 were quota immigrants, 696 were wives, husbands or children of citizens, 433 were from non-quota countries, 25 were ministers or professors and their families, and 53 were other classes. . . . The Census Bureau says that Massachusetts had 1,375 amusement establishments in 1948 with income of $87,997,000; in 1939 there were 1,347 establishments which took in $38,596,300. . . . U. S. Bureau of Labor reports that of the 1960 single-family houses started in the Boston metropolitan area during three months last summer, 57 per cent had four finished rooms, 25 per cent five rooms, 14 per cent six rooms:

Says It Is Important To Have Sidewalk Repair Work Continued In City

In a report to Mayor Lockwood, Street Commissioner Harold F. Young has revealed that an extensive program of sidewalk reconstruction and repair throughout the city will be undertaken and that those sidewalks in the most serious condition will receive priority attention.

Referring to the sidewalk project, Mr. Young stated in reviewing the work done in 1949:

"The contract repairs on cement and asphalt walks during 1949 were practically all in locations deemed to be dangerous to pedestrians. A continuation of this work is most important.

"During the past year there has been an increasing demand on the part of owners of newly constructed homes for improvement of sidewalks abutting their properties. Many of these homes have been constructed in locations where sidewalks have not been maintained for many years, but with increased development in these neighborhoods the maintenance of a sidewalk seems essential.

"Replacement of some sections of concrete walks, particularly where tree roots have raised these sections to the point where they create dangerous conditions and may become the source of claims, is also important.

"In addition to sidewalk repairs on accepted streets there exist many defects in walks around public buildings, especially schools. An inspection of the walks at the High School will show conditions which are fast becoming dangerous and these should be repaired."

Auburndale Streets Are Listed For Improvement

Approximately three and a third miles of street in Auburndale will be reconstructed or resurfaced at an estimated cost of $34,125. They are:

Auburn street, from Woodlawn to Evergreen avenue, reconstructed.

Camden road, entire length, reconstructed.

Charles street, entire length, sand mulch.

Chaske avenue, entire length, reconstructed.

Grove street, from near Hancock street to the Riverside Sand and Gravel Co., and Grove street from DeForest street to Washington street, stone seal.

Kapasia street, entire length, stone seal.

Maple road, entire length, sand mulch.

Melrose street, from Commonwealth avenue to Auburn street, reconstructed.

Melrose street, from Commonwealth avenue to Stamford street, stone seal.

Newell road, entire length, sand mulch.

and mulch.

Orris street, entire length, sand mulch.

Owatonna street, entire length, stone seal.

Pine street, from River street to near Washburn avenue, mixed in place.

Ware road, entire length, stone seal.

Williston road, from Hancock street to beyond Virginia road, sand mulch.

Winona street, entire length, sand mulch.

Woodland road, from Vista avenue to Maple street, reconstructed.

The Hoover Commission has reported that $140 million a year could be saved by modernizing the organization methods and equipment of the U. S. Post Office Department.

Appoint Committee To Promote "Good Citizenship"

The Good Citizenship Association of Newton welcomed some of its newly elected board members at a meeting held at the Association's clubhouse, 98 Dalby street, Newton, last Thursday evening. The new officers of the association are: R. Jerry Angino, president; Charles H. Mergendahl, treasurer; Louis Fried, financial secretary; and John F. Lovely, recording secretary.
At the meeting money was appropriated to repair and paint the building, the labor to be furnished by volunteers. A committee was also appointed to investigate ways to serve and promote "Good Citizenship" in the community. Serving on the committee will be Charles Feeley, Miss Lillian Swartz, and Alderman Edward Fahey.
The organization was founded in 1899 by a group of public minded citizens of Newton for the purpose of maintaining a building to be used as a reading room, lecture hall, or such other purposes as shall tend to promote temperance, morality, education, literary taste and culture among, and the social well being of, the people of that part of Newton called Nonantum.

Boy Scout Stamps Now On Sale

Postal clerks will be ready for the thousands of scouts who will visit all postoffices this week to purchase one or more of the new three-cent postage stamps which have been issued in their honor by the government.
1,800,000 of these stamps have arrived in the Boston Postal District for sale and judging by the number of inquiries received at the various postoffices it appears likely that an additional supply will be needed to meet the demand. The new 3 cent stamp shows a picture of three scouts, the Statue of Liberty and a portion of the pledge of the Boy Scouts, "On My Honor I Will Do My Best" together with the official scout emblem and the words Boy Scouts of America.
Postmaster Francis A. Crowley also announced that the new 3-cent Indiana Territory Sesqui-centennial commemorative stamp will be placed on sale this week at all postoffices in Greater Boston.

"Sacrament" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, July 9. Golden Text: "Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting." (Psalms 139:23, 24).
Sermos: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"no shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation." (Psalms 24:3-5). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Our Master taught no mere theory, doctrine, or belief. It was the divine Principle of all real being which he taught and practised. His proof of Christianity was no form or system of religion and worship, but Christian Science, working out the harmony of Life and Love." (p. 26-28-32).

Learn to Swim---1

1. Swimming water is generally cool, and sometimes cold. Before getting in it is a good idea to rinse the body a little at a time, to adjust to the lower temperature and to minimize the shock of complete immersion later.

Getting Acquainted

2. In shoulder deep water it is more difficult to breathe because of pressure against the chest. Stay a little while at this depth and you will soon become adjusted to this new condition.

3. To get a "fish-eye" view, take a good full breath of air, hold it, put your face in the water and open your eyes. You will find that holding the breath under water becomes almost automatic, and you can see quite well.

4. Exhaling under water is very important. It should be practiced until it is easy to do. Inhale above the surface, submerge and blow "bubbles" when the face is under. Use the mouth entirely—forget that you have a nose.

Cordial Co-operation of Newton Churches Demonstrates Brotherhood

Opens 4th Season At Wellesley July 11

Enrichment of religious life in Newton through the recent formation here of a new liberal Jewish congregation, Temple Shalom of Newton, has been welcomed by Christian and Jewish groups alike. It was indicated this week by the Rev. Richard P. McClintock, executive secretary of the Newton Council of Churches, and Rabbi Irving Mandel, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom.
They pointed out that despite the fact the new congregation is only four months old three Newton churches have already invited the Jewish group to use their facilities while the building program for Temple Shalom is being studied.

During the formative weeks, meeting places for the new Temple were provided by Norumbega Park, the Asdover Newton Theological Seminary and the Newton Methodist Church. Following the initial congregational meeting of Temple Shalom at the Newton Methodist Church, the board of that church authorized the Rev. Leslie Johnson, the pastor, to make the church available to Temple Shalom for the coming year.
Two weeks ago, the members of the Second Church (Congregational) in West Newton met at the call of their pastor, Dr. Robert Clyde Yarbrough, and voted to offer all their facilities to the new Jewish congregation. The following week, the First Unitarian Church in West Newton held a parish meeting and subsequently made a similar generous offer through its minister, the Rev. John Fisher.

Inasmuch as the Unitarian and Congregational churches are located close together, Temple Shalom is arranging to conduct Friday evening services at the Unitarian church and Sabbath School classes on Saturday mornings at the Congregational Church in West Newton.
"We are most grateful for the cordial co-operation of the Newton churches," Rabbi Mandel stated this week. These generous offers demonstrate the true spirit of brotherhood in a world badly in need of that manifestation."

American Indians had no knowledge of iron prior to the arrival of Europeans. King Philip, sachem of the Wampanoags, was so impressed by the metal that he tried unsuccessfully to back an iron works with a deed of land. Had the deed been allowed, the Indian forces might have been much better armed in "King Philip's War" in 1675.

More than 2,150,000 tons of finished steel were used to build airplane motors and airframes between January 1942 and June 1945.

Tentative Census Figures Gives Newton Population For 1950 As 81,736

The Federal Census Bureau last week announced that the first, unverified figures, revealed that the number of persons residing in Newton was 81,736, an increase of 11,863 since the last census was taken ten years ago, at which time the population was listed at 69,873.

A rapid building program, a bounding birth rate and an exodus of many families from city to suburbs combined to bring the number of residents in Newton to double the number who resided here forty years ago, when the census figures revealed 39,806 as the city's population.

Newton's growth in the last ten years is attributable, in a large degree, to the expansion of the building program which has been going on here. This is illustrated by the fact that during the first five months of this year 233 single dwellings, 17 doubles and eight apartment buildings permits had been issued providing for accommodations for 276 families.

Final population figures are still undergoing processing and are not expected to be released until sometime later this year. It is unlikely, however, that the final figures will vary substantially from the tentative figures released last week.

Expect Aqueduct To Be In Operation Next Month

Testing of the Hultman aqueduct under Newton with water pressure and disinfecting it, will take place this month. According to present plans the aqueduct will be put into operation in August.

Newton is expected to join the metropolitan system and if so, connections will be made at three points: Newton Cemetery, Waban Hill Reservoir, and Nonantum. Newton, however, would not be able to draw its entire water supply from the Metropolitan system until a pumping station is built at Shaft 6, Newton Cemetery. This project would be undertaken in the fall.

Disinfection of the tunnel will be accomplished by the use of a solution of chlorine and water, pumped into the tunnel, allowed to stand there and then pumped out.

The list of streets and the probable cost of each project is as follows:

Allison street, entire length, 620 feet, $200, to be resurfaced in sand hone.
Beech street, entire length, 370 feet, $125, sand hone.
Bellevue street, from Church to street, westerly, 800 feet, $5000, to be reconstructed.

California street, from Bridge street to the Watertown line, 3050 feet, $1200, stone seal.

Channing street, entire length, 550 feet, $175, stone seal.

Church street, from Centre street to Washington street, 1400 feet, $450, stone seal.

Fayette street, entire length, 400 feet, $350, sand mulch.

Los Angeles street, entire length 550 feet, $200, sand hone.

Laudholm road, entire length, 570 feet, $2000, to be resurfaced.

Mr. Ida street, entire length, 350 feet, $2500, to be reconstructed.

Peabody street, entire length, 450 feet, $150, stone seal.

Rockland street, entire length, 350 feet, $300, sand mulch.

Richardson street, 500 feet from Centre street, $3000, reconstructed.

Richardson street, balance, 650 feet, $200, stone seal.

Surrey road, entire length, 400 feet, $1600, reconstructed.

Walnut Park, park area only, 1000 feet, $900, sand mulch.

Waban Park and street, entire length, 1500 feet, $1300, sand mulch.

Watertown street, from Chabel street to Watertown line, 1200 feet, to be considered in 1951, work to be done under Chapter 90.

Three-Year-Old Betty Jean Proves a Most Excellent Nurse and Provider for Two Robins

By JANET QUINN

LITTLE BETTY JEAN and her two pet robins are close pals, all because they understand each other perfectly and live in a world all their own when they greet each other.

Turning momentarily from the more and more disheartening war news in the newspapers, the hearts of many people have recently been warmed by the human interest story of a Newton Miss who has tamed and trained two robins so that they obey her quicker than they do their own mother.

Betty Jean LeBrun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. LeBrun, 2313 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls; her sister Joan, 7; and her brother Joseph Jr., 9; have named the two birds Speckie and Brownie, and care for them like babies. However, the birds are frightened of all but the three-year-old Betty, on whom they will perch and come to at her slightest call. It all started with Speckie's falling from his nest and breaking his leg. Were it not for Betty's taking the baby robin to her aunt, Mrs. John E. Young, 690 Grove street, around the corner from Betty's home, the bird might have died. Soon the bird's brother, Brownie, fell out of the nest and the two have been inseparable ever since; or should I say, the three, counting little Betty Jean.

Every year the children have found birds to care for and play with. Mrs. Young has photos of the children with a pet starling, taken last year. The starling had become so adjusted to home life, he paid no heed to the cat, who decided to rid the house of the intruder. They had a bluejay living with them all last winter before he died.

Now the robins are getting too old to be petted, and for fear of the neighborhood feline prowlers, Mrs. Young does not want to encourage them to stay around the back yard; and yet, each time the two robins fly away, they return soon after like true domestic pets. Mrs. Young has reconciled herself to the fact that through many summers to come, she will be an honorary member of the 690 Grove Street Bird Watching Society, to whom the three members will come for advice when problems arise. She'll love the job, though.

Reports Theft of $3500 in Jewelry

Last Friday Mrs. Harry W. Porter, 50 Cloverdale Road, Newton Highlands, reported the theft of $3500 in jewelry from a drawer in her sitting room. Stolen was a platinum engagement ring, with a diamond and two baguettes, valued at $2250; a platinum wedding band, set with diamonds, worth $500; and two ring guards, worth $10. No traces of forced entrance having been found, it is supposed that the thief entered through an unlocked door.

Conducting the investigation were Capt. Daniel E. Crowley and Sgt. Richard L. Bannon.

Two Newton Men Head Campaign

Joseph T. Walker, Jr., of Chestnut Hill, a Newton resident of many years, has been elected President of the United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, formerly the Greater Boston Community Fund, and Maynard Hutchinson, formerly of Newton, has been elected Vice President. Mr. Walker was Campaign Chairman of the 1944 Red Feather Campaign and Mr. Hutchinson was Chairman of the first United War Fund Campaign held in 1942.

Both men have been prominently identified with the Greater Boston Community Fund and United Community Services, and Mr. Hutchinson was Campaign Chairman and later President of the Newton Community Chest prior to his Greater Boston appointment.

Maj. Gen. Needham to Seek Republican Nomination For Governor in Primary

Maj. Gen. Daniel Needham, prominent Newton citizen, former state public safety commissioner, and retired Commander of the 26th Division, National Guard, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor Monday night. Opposing him in the Republican primary are: Retired Admiral Louis E. Denfeld of Westboro; former Lt. Gov. Arthur W. Coolidge of Reading; former Atty. Gen. Clarence A. Barnes of Mansfield; Judge Frankland W. L. Miles of Newton; and former state Senator Edward M. Rowe of Cambridge.

Needham added to his announcement an attack upon Gov. Dever's administration. He said, "During the term of the present governor, we have been receiving nothing but broken promises and indecisive action. The people in Massachusetts were positively promised no increases in street car fares. Everyone who uses the MTA knows that fares were increased and the governor's campaign promise was broken. 'It is time that someone gave this commonwealth the kind of business and economical administration to which every taxpayer is entitled.'"

Born in Groton 59 years ago, Needham attended Phillips Academy at Andover and was graduated from Harvard College in 1913 and from Harvard Law School in 1916. He has been a practicing attorney in Boston with the firm of Sherburne, Powers and Needham since 1919, following his discharge from the army in World War I.

MAJ. GEN. NEEDHAM

Married and with two children, Daniel Needham, Jr., and Mrs. L. Towson Ellis, he resides at 343 Highland street, West Newton.

Urges Large Registration in Order to Defeat Increase in Auto Insurance

Representative George E. Rawson this week made the following statement regarding the importance of all Newton citizens registering to vote this year:

"There will appear on the ballot at the November election a proposed law by initiative petition to provide for a uniform flat rate for motor vehicle insurance throughout the Commonwealth."

"If this law should pass, motor car owners in Suffolk County and a few other places would gain a lower rate. Newton car owners, however, would be forced to pay more than now. Newton's present rate for the compulsory $5000 to $10,000 coverage is $27.10. The proponents of the new initiative law claim a rate of $30 throughout the state. In my opinion, based on experience in the insurance business, it would be much more than that. In fact, it has been estimated by some as high as $35."

"Every Newton resident who owns a car should vote against the proposal for his own interest. He should, therefore, see to it that his name is on the voting list this year."

"All those qualified to vote may register at City Hall on any week day except Saturday between the hours of 9 and 5, also Monday evenings through August 18, the final date for registration for the September 19 primary. There will be a further opportunity to register at the same place between September 21 and October 5."

"A full registration means a heavy vote and a heavy vote in Newton and other places, outside Suffolk County, can defeat this proposed law."

Mrs. Azerlea Pray Murray to Seek Republican Nomination for Representative in 5th Middlesex

Mrs. Azerlea Pray Murray, who resides at 45 Everett street, Newton Centre, has announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for the House of Representatives in the 5th Middlesex District, to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Mrs. Spear.

Mrs. Murray is a long time resident and taxpayer of Newton, and is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, and subsequently took extensive private vocal study. She is a graduate of the Washington School of Secretarial Research at Washington, D. C.

She has one son, a student at the Newton High School.

Mrs. Murray has been a vigorous participant in civic and church work, including Red Cross, Volunteer Nurse's Aid, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and the Peabody Home for Crippled Children. She is a member of the Board of Community Chorus, Newton Centre Women's Club, and the Newton League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Murray feels that this important position in the General Court should be filled by a competent alert woman who will truly represent the women's view in the legislative halls, and she is conscious of the fact that only a vigorous and physically healthy woman can withstand the arduous, tedious hours of the long all night sessions when it is important that Republican forces stand guard to maintain their majority and protect the interests of the people.

Mrs. Murray earnestly solicits the support of those citizens who feel as she does.

Lt. McMullen To Attend FBI School

Monday, Lt. John N. McMullen of the Police Department will start a 12-week course at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Academy in Washington, according to an announcement made by Chief Philip Purcell.

Lt. McMullen, who is the youngest man in point of service to be appointed a lieutenant, joined the police department as a reserve officer February 19, 1940, and was appointed a regular patrolman April 28, 1941. He was named sergeant December 1, 1947, and promoted to lieutenant October 11, last year having led the Civil Service list.

Born in Newton September 6, 1906, he was graduated from Our Lady's School and was employed by the Street Department for 14 years before joining the police department. He is the son of Mrs. Anna McMullen and the late Nicholas McMullen, and is married to the former Florence McDonald. He lives at 232 Linwood avenue, Newtonville.

Other members of the local police department who have graduated from the FBI Academy are Chief Purcell, and Inspectors Joseph B. Lyons, Thomas L. McEaney and John A. Bibbo.

Boy Scouts Return From Jamboree

After a week of clean fun, wholesome food, and good companionship, approximately 50 Norumbega Scouts and Explorers and 50 from Sackheim Council got off the train last Friday at Newtonville, with their bronzed faces showing their happiness, and the appreciation they felt for all who made possible the Second National Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., where the Scouts camped and cooked out for a week.

With packs bulging, the boys brought back souvenirs galore and many successful trades had been made on the train. The boys are already looking forward to the next jamboree, hoping that it will measure up to the wonderful time had by every one of the thousands of American and foreign Scouts there this year.

Ask President's Veto of Pay Boost for World War 2 Vets In Postal Service Be Upheld

Contending that "neither veterans nor any other special category of citizens deserve to benefit from political log-rolling at the expense of other citizens," Newton Chapter of the American Veterans Committee has urged the two Senators from Massachusetts "to uphold President Truman's veto of the bill which grants sizeable pay increases to World War II veterans who joined the postal field service after their discharge."

Issues Orders On Trucking Ban

Chief Philip Purcell has issued orders to members of the police department to strictly enforce the ban on trucks violating the city ordinance against the use of Watertown street, between 8 p.m. and 7 a.m. The order was issued last week after complaints had been lodged against the trucks.

Complaints also were received about speeding automobiles on Shady Hill road and Stony Brae road, Newton Highlands.

Number of Voters Shows 1612 Drop

The Newton voting list this year contains 1612 less names than the list of last year, according to the Board of Registrars of Voters. The latest revision shows 40,727 voters compared with 42,339 at the end of the 1949 revision. Names of all Newton residents which did not appear on the January 1 police listing in the same form, street, and number as on the voting list of last year, were dropped from the list.

The state election will be held November 7, and registration for voting will close August 18. Night sessions will be held during the last week before the closing day.

Fourth Safe And Sane In Newton

Except for a few calls, resulting from fireworks and drunkenness, the Newton Police and Fire Departments spent the quietest Fourth of July in many years.

The only activity was the taking part of Engine 6 of Waban in a Needham parade. Monday Engine 9 was called to the scene of a bonfire at the Franklin Simon Store in Chestnut Hill, and Engine 3 to the home of Philip Brown, 164 Cotton Street, Newton Centre, on the roof of which a television repair man faints. But aside from these, it was a very safe and sane Fourth weekend.

Two Delegates Are Attending Center At Wellesley

Newton Chapter delegates to the Leadership Training Center in Junior Red Cross being held at Wellesley College from July 11 to 21 are Miss Sylvia Bond, of 22 Ellis road, West Newton, and Samuel Gilfix, of 148 Mill street, Newton Centre.

The delegates are both students at Newton High School, and participated in the Junior Red Cross High School Council during the past year. Both were active in the one-day student exchange with Newport, Rhode Island, and assisted in the packing of the high-school's overseas gift chest.

At Wellesley they will familiarize themselves with Red Cross program and organization, and discuss ways in which Junior members of the organization may serve others, locally, nationally and internationally. Stress will be laid on developing leadership among the Junior members. They will have an opportunity to take instruction in Red Cross First Aid, Water Safety and Home Nursing as well.

Over 200 Junior Red Cross delegates from the Eastern Area will attend the ten-day conference.

Newton to Receive Tax Reduction

A tax reduction of over $23,000 for the city of Newton for the coming year has been announced by the Chairman of the Middlesex County Commissioner, Melvin G. Roberts this week, in line with an overall tax reduction for the whole county of which Newton is a part.

For 1950 the city's tax will be $355,676.27, as against the 1949 figure of $379,167.96. This reduction has been effected in spite of mounting costs.

Made Full Time Court Officer

Francis J. Cook, 9 Kilburn Road, West Newton, part-time court officer at the Newton District Court for several years, has been appointed by Judge Donald E. Mayberry to the post of full-time court officer. This post has been authorized by the County Commissioners because of increased business.

Mr. Cook, a twice wounded veteran of World War I, entertained disabled veterans in many Massachusetts hospitals. He is a member of the Newton Post, American Legion.

He and Mrs. Cook have a daughter, Mrs. Florence I. Keough; and a son Francis J. Cook, Jr.

Dr. Gordon To Speak on Radio Sun.

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, rabbi of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, will be the guest speaker on the "Message of Israel" radio program, emanating from New York City and relayed nationally by the American Broadcasting Company network this Sunday.

The title of Dr. Gordon's address will be, "Needed: A Vital Religion."

Dr. Warren Is Named To Atom Group

Dr. Shields Warren, 301 Otis street, West Newton, has been named a member of a team of atomic scientists living in this State who are "now equipped and trained for emergency service" in the event of an atomic bomb attack. Gov. Paul Dever has announced.

The team is headed by Dean John W. M. Bunker of M.I.T., an expert on matters of radiological civil defense. Others on the "team" in addition to Dr. Warren, who heads the Biological Hazards Section of the U.S. Atomic Energy Committee, are Karl T. Compton, former president of M.I.T., Harvard University Physicist Kenneth Bainbridge, who was active in producing the first atomic bomb; Professor Robley D. Evans of M.I.T., internationally known authority on biological effects of radiation, and Jerrold R. Zacharias, professor of nuclear physics at M.I.T.

Mrs. Shlomo Marenof Is Named Temple Consultant

Temple Shalom of Newton announced this week the appointment of Mrs. Shlomo Marenof, author, educator and lecturer, as religious school director and educational consultant for the new liberal Jewish congregation of 250 families.

Mrs. Marenof will work with Rabbi Irving Mandel in organizing the Temple's Sabbath School and in selecting the teaching staff.

A graduate of the University of Chicago, Mrs. Marenof had the unique experience of studying the Bible on walking tours through the Holy Land for a period of three years. She has supervised Sabbath School at Temple K.A.M., Chicago; Beth El Temple, Omaha and Kehillath Israel, Brookline. She has had wide experience also as a Hebrew teacher and will be in charge of Temple Shalom's week-day Hebrew School.

Author of religious text material used by schools, clubs and camps in many parts of the country, Mrs. Marenof is well known also for her numerous children's stories, plays, festival programs and other published materials. She is presently engaged in preparing four volumes of texts for teaching history through literature in the Jewish religious school.

Mrs. Marenof is the wife of Professor Shlomo Marenof of the department of Near Eastern Civilization at Brandeis University and the mother of Arnona Marenof, a senior at Sargent College, who will also join the faculty of Brandeis. The Marenofs live at 18 Pine Crest road, Newton Centre.

MRS. SHLOMO MARENOF

Wade St. Contract Is Awarded

A contract for construction work on Wade street, Newton, was awarded by the street commissioners of City of Newton to Northeastern Construction Co. of Framingham for $11,278.45, according to Gaiety's Construction News.

Not Too Late for Children to Enroll in Course

It is not too late for children to enroll in Water Safety classes conducted by Red Cross instructors at Crystal Lake, according to Frank Dowett, Chairman of Water Safety for the Newton Chapter.

Regular bus schedules from Newton playgrounds started last Friday, bringing children to the lake once a week from each of the playgrounds for morning instruction.

However, classes are also given in the afternoons for anyone who wishes to attend more frequently and make more rapid progress.

Special attention is called to the classes for adults given every Wednesday evening from six to eight p.m. with two instructors on duty.

2 Truck Drivers Fined for Using Embankment Rd.

In Newton District Court Monday, two truck drivers paid fines for operating their vehicles on Embankment road, Newton, in violation of the no-trucking regulation. MDC Patrolman John J. Dacey was complainant against Robert Baker of Brookline who was found guilty and paid a $5 fine.

On complaint of MDC Patrolman John J. Mullen, Michael Sullivan of Mattapan was found guilty of the same charge and paid $10. He pleaded innocent and was found innocent of failing to stop on signal of a police officer.

One Case of Polio Reported Here

The monthly report on communicable diseases issued by the Newton Health Department shows one case of infantile paralysis for June, 1950; there were none in June, 1949. There were only 42 cases of chicken pox, however; compared with 64 in June of last year.

The report of this June in comparison with that of last June is as follows:

	1950	1949
Chicken Pox	42	64
Measles	131	9
Mumps	58	56
Scarlet Fever	7	6
Whooping Cough	10	3

Opposed To Parkway Extension

Although Mayor Lockwood is opposed to the city's extending Saw Mill Brook Parkway at Oak Hill Park to Dedham Street on the grounds that it should be undertaken by the M.D.C., the Oak Hill Park Association announced that he might agree to an extension of Spiers Road to Dedham Street instead.

In a conference of Mayor Lockwood, Carl C. Mullen, Chairman of the Veterans' Housing Development, and Franklin N. Flaschner, past president of the association, the petition for the second outlet was agreed upon and is now pending before the Board of Aldermen.

Flaschner stated that an outlet had been planned for a long time; and there was grave danger to over 400 families if Wiswall Road ever became blocked during an emergency. He urged immediate construction, for safety's sake, but left the choosing of "the most practical route" up to the city.

Estimate of $65,775 Given For Ward 7 Street Work

Covering over three miles in Ward 7, a list of street construction projects to be carried out this year at an estimated cost of $65,775, has been issued by Director of Public Works Willard S. Pratt.

A list of the projects is as follows: Baldwin street, entire length, 418 feet, mixed in place. Carleton street, entire length, 800 feet, to be reconstructed. Centre street, from the railroad bridge to Franklin street, 1700 feet, stone seal. Copley street, entire length, 500 feet, to be reconstructed. Eliot Memorial road, entire length, 800 feet, stone seal. Garden road, entire length, 520 feet, stone seal. George street, entire length, 580 feet, sand mulch. Ivanhoe street, entire length, 500 feet, sand mulch. Jameson road, entire length, 630 feet, sand mulch. Kenilworth street, entire length, 1000 feet, sand mulch. Magnolia avenue, entire length, 695 feet, stone seal. Merton street, entire length, 380 feet, stone seal. Newton Corner Square Park street, from Franklin street to Tremont street, 3200 feet, stone seal. Playstead road, entire length, 951 feet, stone seal. Ricker road, entire length, 380 feet, stone seal. Ruthven avenue, entire length, 570 feet, mixed in place. Vernon street, from Park street to Waverley avenue, 700 feet, to be reconstructed. Waterston road, entire length, 580 feet, mixed in place. Waverley avenue, from Franklin street to Tremont street, 1700 feet, stone seal. Willard street, entire length, 709 feet, stone seal.

Largest Factory Employment Increase in State

The monthly report of the State Department of Labor and Industries shows that Newton had the greatest increase in factory employment of any city in Massachusetts last month. Major increases were noted in Waltham, North Adams, and West Springfield.

Fifteen Newton manufacturing establishments reported a seven per cent increase in employment, and a four per cent increase in total wages paid over the preceding month, with 4426 workers and a total weekly payroll of $197,229.

Clyde and Wright Lewis, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Lewis of Blake street, Newtonville, enjoyed a visit with former residents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Goldich of Park Ridge, Ill., last week. The boys are driving to the West Coast and plan to visit California, Oregon and go south into Mexico before returning in the middle of August.

Angling Angles

Have you ever caught any whitefish? Here's a puzzling, deep-water dweller that will tax your skill to hook and land him successfully by regular sporting methods.

A lot of anglers have the mistaken idea that whitefish may be secured only by means of netting or snatching. But Old Hi has caught hundreds over a period of thirty years — by still fishing, casting and trolling — and every one has seized the baited hook himself, or an artificial lure, and has been played freely to the net.

From the lakes of Maine and Quebec to Minnesota and Manitoba you'll find the Eastern or common whitefish in numerous waters. To the west of this territory the Rocky Mountain whitefish thrives in both lakes and streams. The common whitefish is the larger and sportier, but his western relative is plenty perky in moving water when caught on a cascade fly rod, especially during the fall and winter months.

When whitefish grab a baited hook — such as when still fishing at a buoy in a lake — you must give only a slight jerk, then begin reeling in line at once. You have to remember that whitefish have exceptionally small and tender mouths, and therefore in order to bring them safely to the net you must not yank hard or retrieve line rapidly. Doing so will cost you the fish every time. This indicates why many anglers have been unable to land whitefish, and consequently thought it impossible to take them by sporting methods.

Whitefish challenge your skill, then, and are worth trying to manage on a light bait or fly rod equipped with a level-wind commode reel, 12 pound test line, and size eight or ten snelled hook. Handle your customers gingerly, and let them fight against the spring of the rod. You'll be glad to boat a mess of whitefish, for they are mighty delicious tasting.

By reading Old Hi's booklet "Fishing For The Millions" you'll learn the inside story of how to lick these cagy whitefish, and what specific tackle is required.

You may have a free copy by sending a postcard request to me in care of this newspaper. At the same time, if you plan to do any ocean angling, ask for your free copies of Old Hi's illustrated booklets entitled "Salt Water Sports Fishing" and "Pacific Coastal Fishing." These give you the facts on catching the game and pan fish that haunt our seaside areas. Better write today, for the books are going fast.

While out this season along the lakes and streams of the wilderness regions, be ever careful not to cause any forest fires from lighted matches, burning tobacco or smoldering campfires. Help keep your America green.

Alvord Bros., Realtors, report the sale of the estate located at 134 Summer Street, Newton Centre. This property consists of a brick Georgian residence with attached two-car garage and over one-half acre of land. Conveyance was made from Mrs. Lizzie C. Fitch to Dr. and Mrs. John H. Hanks.

The extensive program of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped, Inc., the Easter Seal Agency, besides providing a wide range of other services, includes work with those suffering from defective speech.

NEW SUCCESSES in Shoe and Leather Division's activities in the Combined Jewish Appeal of Greater Boston are foreseen by Hyman Cohen, of Newton, newly elected chairman of the division.

Hold Joint Outing This Sunday

The Stigmatine Seminary Guild, Mrs. John T. Quinn, president, and the Stigmatine Associates, Mrs. Edward LeBlanc, president, will hold their joint annual outing Sunday, July 16, at the Major Seminary, Elmbank, Wellesley. Mr. John T. Quinn, Waltham, and Mrs. Edward LeBlanc, Auburndale, are co-chairmen, assisted by a large committee.

There will be an out-door Mass at 11 a.m. A varied program of activities throughout the day has been planned, including baseball, soft-ball, horseshoe-pitching, tug-of-war and competitive races for both children and adults. Also there will be pony rides and a merry-go-round for the young crowd. There is no admission and all club members, their families and friends are invited to participate in this event. Refreshments will be sold on the grounds. Elmbank is situated on Washington street, Wellesley, and can be reached by following Route 16, from Wellesley Center. There will be free bus service from Seiler's, Wellesley Square at 10:00 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. and 12:00 noon and 12:30 p.m. for those who wish transportation to the outing-grounds.

West Newton Boys Attending Camp

West Newton boys attending the Two Centars Day Camp are Joe Volente, Paul Barry, Howard Haywood, John They, William Mitchell, Bobby Gibbs, Joe Panzera, Leonard Elkins, Bill Cooper, Thomas Turner, Richard Vose, Terry Reilly, Richard Kelley, Emile Ererd, Peter Ererd, John Harrington, Don Godsdan.

The camp is conducted by the West Newton Community Center and Pomroy House of Newton. The camp offers an opportunity to enjoy the aquatic instruction and sports at Walden Pond, Concord. There are many interesting craft activities held at Pomroy House, as well as the other camping experiences offered in a day camp program. After July 7 the camp will be for girls until the closing about the middle of August.

Low Bid of $637,800 Is Received On New Bowen School Building Project

Public Buildings Commissioner Arthur Campbell last week announced that eighteen bids were opened for the construction of a new Bowen School in Newton Centre and for the erection of a recreation building at the Hawthorne Playground in Newton.

C. R. Burns and Sons of Brookline submitted a bid of $637,800 for the Bowen School contract and was the lowest bidder. Other bids were: J. F. Rand and Sons of Boston, $654,783; F. Volpe and Company of Dorchester, $655,315; and the highest bid received out of 11 bidders, was $707,000.

The new school will be located on Cypress street on the Thompsonville Playground and will replace the present Bowen School on Langley road. It will be a two-story brick building with 15 classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and an all-purpose room, a playground and an auditorium.

Low bidder for the construction of the Hawthorne Playground building was J. F. Rand and Sons, who bid $79,795. Other low bidders were L. & R. Construction Co., of Medford, $89,045 and Tornabene Brothers of Newton Centre, $91,900. The highest bid was $105,800.

This building will consist of a large playroom, lockers, showers and toilet facilities.

Ask Veto—

postal service before World War II. Those veterans who were postal employees before their military service have already been taken care of by legislation. Passage of this kind of legislation is bound to cause demoralization among the many loyal post office workers who are not blessed with veterans preference. "And what is more important, passage of this kind of legislation is intolerable to the American taxpayer at a time when with one hand for the sake of economy the government seriously curtails our postal service, and with the other hand for the sake of special veterans preference the government would pour into the now inadequate postal service without any return over $225,000.

"Finally, it is proper to ask the question: 'Where do we stop?' This is not even general veterans preference legislation. It is the enactment of benefits for existing jobholders in one governmental department. Will not the other departments require similar treatment once the precedent is established here? We would suppose so, and therefore, for this reason and the reasons aforementioned we respectfully request you to vote against this bill and in favor of the President's veto.

"We understand that the bill is opposed not only by the President, but also by the Post Office Department itself, the Bureau of the Budget, the Civil Service Commission, and the Comptroller General, which united front among the responsible fiscal agencies of our government lends irrefutable evidence to the necessity for upholding the President's veto."

Help Given in Solving Problems

So many people have problems these days and they don't know what to do about them. It may be family trouble, something wrong with one of the children, help in planning meals on a low income budget, a high school daughter interested in nursing—or hundreds of other perplexing questions which are always coming up in the course of the family day.

Whatever the difficulty, there is one place where the people of Newton and other Metropolitan Boston communities may turn for help in solving their problems. This is Red Feather Information Service, sponsored by United Community Services, 14 Somerset street, Boston. Skilled in helping people find the right resource for whatever question, simple or complex, the staff of Red Feather Information Service, under the direction of Mrs. Frances W. Guild, answered no less than 10,000 questions last year and followed through on some 2,000 actual cases.

Deaths

David I. Sheiffer

Services were held at the Stanetsky Funeral Chapel, Roxbury, last Wednesday for David I. Sheiffer, 23 Converse avenue, Newton, who died suddenly of a heart attack Tuesday at his home.

Mr. Sheiffer, a Veteran of World War 1, member of the Newton Jewish War Veterans, Brotherhood of Temple Emmanuel, the West End House, and the Boston Mailers' Union moved to Newton in 1944 from Revere. Surviving are his wife Betty (Wiseman); four children, Thelma, Arnold, Jerome, and Kenneth; two sisters, Mrs. Frances Levine of Dorchester and Mrs. Ida Smokler of Brighton; and a brother, Daniel Sheiffer of Turners Falls.

Burial was at Mt. Lebanon Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Mrs. Irene McIntyre

Twenty-eight year old Mrs. Irene McIntyre, 8 Cheney court, Newton Upper Falls, collapsed, ironically enough, during a checkup by her doctor, and died upon her arrival at Boston City Hospital, after having been rushed there following unsuccessful attempts by police and firemen to revive her.

Mrs. McIntyre, the mother of five children, Robert, 10; Sally, 7; Russell, 4; Sheila, 3; and Sandra, 5 mos., is a native of Barenfield, Newfoundland, but grew up in Newton. She leaves also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Batten of Edgartown; her husband, Urban McIntyre; a brother, Garfield Batten, and a sister, Mrs. Stella Kelley.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 at the Joseph G. Valente Chapel, 360 Watertown street, Newton. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Rev. Andrew Hahn

Funeral services for Rev. Andrew Hahn, who died Sunday afternoon at his home, 23 Nantum place, Newton, were held from his home yesterday. Born in Newton, and educated in the Newton schools, Rev. Hahn graduated from Harvard University and from the Harvard Divinity School. He was a Unitarian minister, and was pastor of churches in Wolfboro, N. H., and Duxbury, Mass. A life-long member of the Channing Unitarian Church, he retired from the ministry in 1918. Surviving are a sister, Miss Susanna E. Hahn; a brother, Mr. Frank Hahn, and two nieces, Miss Elizabeth Hahn, and Mrs. Harold Chase of Los Angeles.

Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

"LIFE" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, July 16.

"GOLDEN TEXT: 'The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?' (Psalms 27:1).

SERMON: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls" (Matt. 11: 28, 29).
Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"The sharp experiences of belief in the supposititious life of matter, as well as our disappointments and ceaseless woes, turn us like tired children to the arms of divine love. Then we begin to learn Life in divine Science" (p. 322:26-30).

Same Old Pattern

Whether or not there is to be another full scale war is the question of the hour and we don't propose to predict the answer. However, there were two items that broke in the news last week which seem to indicate that at least two major food industries are up to their old tricks of increasing prices on the strength of a war scare.

We refer to the proposed increase in coffee prices announced last week and to the proposed increase in bread prices announced Sunday by one of the large baking companies with headquarters in New York.

The coffee situation has been smelly for sometime, and we don't refer to the aroma described by the writers of coffee advertising. Not long ago a committee was appointed by Congress to investigate the price increase that went into effect some months ago. The last word we heard about this committee was that it had been advised to soft pedal any action for fear of upsetting our diplomatic relations with Latin America.

In announcing the increase in bread prices the reason given was that old cliché, "increased cost of manufacturing." What costs have increased we should like to know?

The price of bread produced by the large baking companies and sold in independent food stores has for sometime been set at 16c a loaf. Yet in a nearby town a small bakery without mass production machinery, etc., has been turning out a better loaf of bread for only 15c. Now this little baker does not claim his product is "enriched," but we can testify that it is far superior in taste and nourishment to the mass produced loaf and we venture it is just as full of vitamins.

If these two price increases noted above are going to set a pattern for other industries to follow, then it is time for quick action by government agencies to set up ceiling prices again to protect the consumer's pocketbook.

If the spokesmen for the coffee and baking industries have anything to say in justification of their recent price increases, let us hear from them at once, but it had better be good hard facts, and NO double talk.

Profit Costs Us Little

Industry, despite the theories of the left-wing groups, must make a profit if it is to live. A business which operates at a loss for a long enough period of time is hell-bent for the economic graveyard, where it will be of service to no one.

In most cases, however, profit is so small as to hardly make a dent in the consumer's budget.

The profit motive, which is so bitterly denounced by those who would destroy free enterprise and, in the process, destroy representative government, has been the main-spring of our economic development. It has been responsible for our purchasing power and living standards. And the remarkable part is that profit costs us so little.

Six Republicans Would Like to Be Governor. Is Denfeld a Citizen of Massachusetts... "Not a Politician, Just a Naval Man"...

It has been a long time since the Republican picture in Massachusetts has been as confused as it is today.

Six men are battling for the G.O.P. nomination for Governor in the hottest fight the party has seen in years.

Uncertainty exists as to whether one of the six, Admiral Louis Denfeld, could hold the Governorship if he were elected to it.

General Daniel Needham of West Newton, former head of the State police and one-time commanding officer of the Yankee Division, is the latest Republican to step into the race for the right to run against Governor Dever in November.

Still sitting on the sidelines is ex-Governor Robert F. Bradford, the man most political observers believe could offer the strongest challenge to Dever, and from all indications he is going to stay there since party leaders apparently are making no real effort to draw him into the field.

It is a strange and unusual situation for the G.O.P. There is no evidence of any real party leadership even though National Committeeman Sinclair Weeks stepped back into a position of power at the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee.

It isn't often that a man seeks election as Governor of a State to which he declines to pay income taxes. That, however, is what Admiral Denfeld is doing.

Whether the courts will hold that the admiral is legally eligible to serve as Governor of Massachusetts remains to be seen, but even if it does, it is quite possible that many voters will take a rather dim view of his candidacy in the face of his refusal to file an income tax return in the Bay State while maintaining a voting address here.

To this observer it would seem that the State Constitution is so written that a man cannot come into this Commonwealth from some other section of the country, hang up his hat and run for the Governorship. That appears to be exactly what Admiral Denfeld is undertaking to do.

The State Constitution provides that to be eligible to serve as Governor a man must have been an "inhabitant" of Massachusetts for the seven years immediately preceding his election.

Some of Admiral Denfeld's political backers insist that he has met that requirement because he has maintained a voting residence in Massachusetts for the past 36 years.

But hard-boiled professional politicians would describe the admiral as a mattress voter since while he was technically registered as a voter here he was paying his taxes in other States.

Under the law a Massachusetts resident is required to file a State income tax return here. Admiral Denfeld has never made a tax return in this State.

That wasn't merely an oversight because Bay State tax officials, always looking for prospective customers, twice tried to persuade Admiral Denfeld to file a tax return in Massachusetts and twice were turned down.

The first time they sought to enroll the admiral on the rolls of Massachusetts taxpayers was in 1932, and they met a rebuff from the old navy officer who said he was living in Tacoma, Wash., and was paying his taxes there.

A second attempt to induce Admiral Denfeld to pay taxes to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts was made in 1945, and again the admiral refused on the ground that his domicile was in another State.

One can assume that the admiral's tax bill was smaller in some other State and that he took advantage of the opportunity to pay his taxes where they would make the smallest dent in his earnings.

That is perfectly understandable, particularly in the case of a serviceman who has a good deal of latitude in deciding where he wants to call home.

But when Admiral Denfeld stated in 1945 that his domicile was outside Massachusetts, he, of course, had no thought of running for Governor of the Bay State. And when he announced his candidacy last week, it's quite possible that he was entirely unaware of the provisions in the Constitution that a Governor must have been an inhabitant of the Commonwealth for seven years.

Now, however, the admiral is face to face with the cold language of law.

There are a few things that may be said about Louis E. Denfeld. He evidently was a good naval officer. He has the courage of his convictions as indicated by the blunt manner in which he spoke out during the row over the unification of the armed services, causing him to be dropped from his command post as chief of naval operations and bringing on his subsequent resignation.

And he also is a man who reserves the right to change his mind. Last November, he wired Governor Dever that he had no political aspirations and that even if he did have he "could never dream of opposing a friend."

Four months ago, in an article published in Colliers magazine, he wrote: "I have been urged to run for Congress or for the Governorship of Massachusetts, but I have no thought of doing so. The last thing I want to do is become a political issue. After all, I tell people, I am a Navy man and that will always be my interest."

Speaking before the State Club at a dinner in Boston last April, the admiral said: "I'm not a politician. I've always been a naval officer."

Now in view of the uncertainty as to Admiral Denfeld's right to serve as Governor, it will be interesting to see whether he remains in the race for the G.O.P. gubernatorial nomination.

It certainly would create a most unusual situation if he were elected as Governor and then were prevented by court action from holding the office.

Because she was "treated so nice" by the bus driver, who stopped for half an hour while she gave birth to a baby girl, Mrs. Myrtle Melvin of Fayetteville, N. C., named her daughter "Queenie" after the Queen City Trailways bus line.

U. S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue George J. Schoenman recently told the National Association of Tax Administrators that one out of every four individual income tax returns is erroneous and that 91 per cent of the mistakes are at the government's expense.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, is mystified by a sudden drop in the demand for coins. She reports that instead of making four billion coins a month the demand is only one-eighth that grade. She can't understand why. A lot of housewives who know how little you can buy with a nickel or a dime nowadays might be able to give her the answer.

Judge Charles S. Bell paused during a divorce trial in Cincinnati to offer the observation that it is a serious mistake for any man to hand over his entire paycheck to his wife.

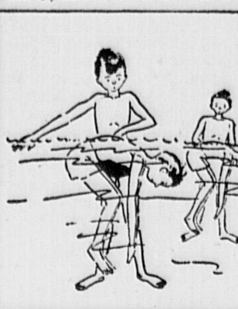

A classified advertisement, appearing recently in the Dansville, N. Y., Breeze read: "WANTED—Farmer, age 38, wishes to meet woman around 30 who owns a tractor. Please enclose picture of tractor." Well, a man has to be careful about those things, doesn't he?

Seeking her second divorce from Floyd T. Jennings, Mrs. Mildred E. Jennings testified in Memphis court that she had married him in 1949 "solely for the purpose of preventing him from annoying" her. That seems a rather unusual method to follow, and apparently it didn't prove quite as successful as Mrs. Jennings expected.

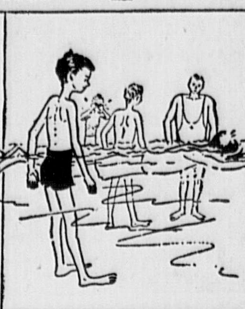

Arrested in Choisy-le-Roi, France, on a charge of stealing a horse, Maurice Fonctionnaz explained in court that he had only done so to help his whooping cough and asthma. "On a horse I'm a little higher than usual, and that lets me breathe," he declared. We wonder if the judge asked him if it wouldn't have been simpler to walk up the nearest hill.

Learn to Swim--- 2

1. Your body with the lungs filled with air is light enough to be suspended in water. Fill the lungs with air and slide the hands down the legs to the ankles. Before you reach your ankles the feet will come off the bottom and you will be floating like a jelly-fish.

2. The "jelly-fish" position is not a good one in which to swim. To learn how to float in a swimming position, do another jelly-fish float, only this time extend your legs backward and your arms forward and lie stretched out on the surface.

3. Now forget the "jelly-fish" and concentrate on the prone-glides. Crouch low, submerge the face, and push off from the bottom with the feet. With only a little practice you will be able to glide along the surface for some distance.

How to Float

4. To get more distance on your glide thrust the legs slowly and flexibly up and down after you have pushed off. This is the beginner version of the flutter kick which later on will be a good and useful part of the "crawl."

Early Registration Urged for Citizens

To the Editor:
May I take this opportunity to speak to the unregistered citizens of Newton through your columns.

We as Americans are proud of these United States, for it stands as a bulwark of strength in the troubled world of today. We as citizens of this country have many rights, taken for granted by us, that are the envy of members of other nations.

Without question one of our greatest privileges is our form of government where we can, in free elections, nominate and elect persons to office who decide our futures. This heritage is the heart of our form of government. Many Newton boys have made the supreme sacrifice, protecting for this and future generations this right to choose who will guide our destinies. It seems only right that citizens of Newton realize what their franchise to vote means. It can not be taken lightly in view of the sacrifices made to perpetuate this way of government.

In Wards one and seven which comprise the village of Newton, there are approximately 3000 people who are not registered to vote. This is about 33 per cent of our assessed poll list. I am sure this figure will not be too far away in the average of the city as a whole. We urge that you register at your earliest opportunity. The City of Newton is giving its citizens every help in registering. City Hall is open for registration every weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will be open Monday evenings from now until August 14th. Should demand warrant it, the Board of Registrars will also be open Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings, August 15, 16, 17. The last day for registration before the Primary is Friday, the 18th of August.

Should you require transportation, our committee will gladly furnish a car, returning you to your home after you have registered. Please give registration your serious attention. Do not put off to tomorrow what you can do today.

Register! Vote! And you will walk down the street feeling that you have been a real American.
DONALD L. GIBBS,
Chmn. Republic City Comm.

Do You Know Massachusetts?

DO YOU KNOW THAT... A marked dispersion of retail trade to the smaller places occurred between 1939 and 1948. Of the fifty Massachusetts municipalities where sales gained most in percentage in that period, only nine were among the fifty largest retail centers of 1939. These nine were Salem, Chelsea, Greenfield, Framingham, Weymouth, Chicopee, Westfield, Leominster and Barnstable. . . . Of the 351 Massachusetts cities and towns, 112 have housing authorities and up to date 88 of them have received approval for 13,835 veterans' housing units under the state-aid program. Of these, 4817 are now completed and 8175 are under construction. . . . The Division of Necessary of Life reports that in June the cost of living in Massachusetts was 2.2 per cent lower than a year ago. Clothing was 4.3 per cent lower, food 1.9 per cent lower, rents 3.1 per cent higher, fuel 2.4 per cent higher and sundries 2.7 per cent higher than in June last year. . . . During the two years, 1948 and 1949, there were 9639 people naturalized in Massachusetts, more than in any other state except the big states of New York and California. . . . From a sample of approximately 2000 new single-family dwellings built in the past year in the Boston Metropolitan area, U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that 80 per cent have full basements, more than 40 per cent have expansion attics for additional bedrooms, 55 per cent have individual sewerage disposal, usually septic tank, and 85 per cent are built by promotional or speculative builders. . . . A special committee has been appointed in Norwell to prepare a zoning bylaw for the town.

Next Best Thing to a New Road!

YOU must understand, of course, that nothing in the world can take the place of a beautiful ribbon of improved highway——stretching so enticingly out into the open country, and all but beseeching you to come for a ride!

But under the happiest auspices, you will have to do much of your driving, for years to come, down roads and highways that leave something to be desired——and how lucky you'll be if you ride them out in a 1950 Cadillac!

In recent years, Cadillac has carried out a tremendous program of research and improvement to achieve a finer "rough-road" ride. The development work has covered steering, springs, shock absorbers, frame, wheels, tires, shackles—and all the engineering problems involved.

Top Greyhounds At Wonderland

As Wonderland rounds the halfway mark and enters the home stretch of its current meet, the records show Highley E. Alderson, America's outstanding greyhound owner of 1949, to have a comfortable lead. Alderson was voted this honor by the Greyhound Writers of America and his present standing shows that he was well deserving of this coveted award.

Alderson has achieved his record by being in the money 74 times in 156 starts and they consist of 36 firsts, 18 seconds and 20 thirds. This tops Mrs. Bess Prevatt, Wonderland's leading woman owner and trainer, by 12 in the win column. However, in the overall times of being in the money, Mrs. Prevatt is only six behind Alderson, but it's the number of firsts that count. Oscar Evers draws the third spot having two less wins than Mrs. Prevatt.

Trailing Mrs. Prevatt and Evers are R. H. Stevenson and R. K. Hutchings. Stevenson has the same number of wins as Evers, but Evers is ahead in the number of second places. Hutchings and H. B. Diamond are also tied with the same number of victories, 21, but again it's the greater number of seconds that gives Hutchings the edge.

Though Alderson is Wonderland's leading owner according to the number of wins, percentage wise Oscar Evers is leading the parade with a percentage of 63 percent by placing in the money 65 times in 104 starts.

Katherine Louise Alberti Is Bride Of Hans H. Angermueller

A reception in the Balinese Room of the Hotel Somerset, followed the marriage of Miss Katherine Louise Alberti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Edward Alberti of Newton Centre, to Mr. Hans Horst Angermueller of Cranston, N.J. Mr. Eric MacEwen officiated at the Nuptial Mass in the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre, Saturday June 8, at 10:30.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, en traine, trimmed with Irish point lace from her mother's wedding gown. Her long veil fell from a cap of the same lace and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis. Mrs. Paul Lowney of Newton was the matron of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of Swiss embroidered orchid organza with a large picture hat trimmed with deep rose to match her bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Eugene Lyne of Chestnut Hill; Mrs. David Birtwell and Miss Patricia Monahan of Newton; Mrs. Robert Rovzar of Norwood; Miss Eleanor Walsh of Davenport, Iowa; and Mrs. David Denison of Larchmont, N.Y. Their gowns, hats and flowers were like those of the matron of honor.

Mrs. Alberti, mother of the bride, wore an aqua lace gown with a pink straw hat. Mrs. Angermueller, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in champagne lace with a champagne and lilac hat.

Mr. Eugene Lyne of Chestnut Hill was the best man and the ushers included Mr. George B. Moran, Jr., of Worcester, brother-in-law of the bride; Mr. David Denison of Larchmont, N.Y.; Mr. Robert Gamble of Elizabeth, N.J.; Mr. Danforth Cardozo of New York City; Mr. Hugh Spillbury of Coatsville, Pa.; and Mr. Robert MacNamara of West Medford.

The bride was graduated from Trinity College, Washington, D.C., and received her master's degree at Boston University. Mr. Angermueller attended Pingry Preparatory School and was graduated from Harvard Law School in June. He is a member of the Hasty-Pudding Institute of 1770, and the Lincoln's Inn Society. They will reside in New York City.

SAVE while you launder with the automatic "Weigh-to-Save"

Laundromat by
Westinghouse

The new Westinghouse Laundromat with exclusive Weigh-to-Save door scale and Water-Saver takes the guesswork out of washing, saves soap, saves water. Just weigh clothes on door scale, set dial for the right amount of soap and water. Your Laundromat automatically washes clothes, triple-rinses, spins garments to fluff softness, drains and shuts itself off.

LEGAL

Case No. 13571 Misc. THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT

(SEAL) In Equity To Philip J. McHugh, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Charles A. Dooley, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, claiming to be the holder of a mortgage covering real property in that part of said Newton, called West Newton, unincorporated, given by the defendant to the plaintiff, dated April 17, 1950, and recorded with Middlesex South Deeds Book 7565, Page 102, has filed with said court a bill in equity for authority to foreclose said mortgage in the manner following: by entry and possession and exercise of power of sale.

If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 as amended and you object to such foreclosure you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in said court at Boston on or before the seventh day of August 1950, or you may be forever barred from claiming that such foreclosure is invalid under said act.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty-seventh day of June 1950.

SVBIL H. HOLMES, Recorder.

Sets Forth Reasons for Favoring Extension of Zones for Apartments

In a report to Mayor Lockwood, the Planning Board sets forth its reasons for initiating the proposal to extend apartment house districts in the city. In its communication the Planning Board states:

Newton Vet Arraigned For Murder

Army Sergeant Hugh E. Burns, 37, formerly of 129 Parmenter road, West Newton, father of two small children, was arraigned for murder in San Francisco Tuesday in connection with the slaying of attractive Mrs. Myrna Stewart, 39, who was found dying before dawn Sunday on San Francisco's Ocean Beach.

The former Newton man was arraigned before Municipal Judge Charles Perry. After several hours of intensive questioning by detectives he allegedly confessed slaying Mrs. Stewart.

Burns has been married twice, his first ending in divorce. Prior to his enlistment in the army, Burns attended Newton grade schools and Newton High School for two years after which he worked as a clerk in several Newton stores.

Newton Man Heads Sales Division

The American Mutual Liability Insurance Company announces the appointment of Arthur M. McCarthy of 16 Manomet road, Newton Centre, as manager of its accident and health insurance sales division.

Former group insurance manager for John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, McCarthy began his insurance career with the Travelers' Insurance Companies. Three years later he became affiliated with the Hancock organization.

His twenty-four years' experience with that company has been broadly varied. For several years he managed a large field office, then transferred to administrative and executive positions in the home office. He was in charge of the firm's entire group insurance department for six years.

The Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped, Inc., the Easter Seal Agency, has pioneered in Massachusetts in the field of treatment and training of children with cerebral palsy.

German Red Cross Nurse Visits Newton Chapter to Study Methods Used Here

Miss Emilie Frank, assistant director of the Red Cross School of Nursing in Bremen, Germany, arrived in Newton this week for a three-week visit to the Newton Red Cross Chapter, to study its nursing services as well as related health services in the community.

FREDERIC J. MULDOON

Frederic J. Muldoon To Seek Democratic Nomination

Frederic J. Muldoon of Brighton has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from the Middlesex and Suffolk District, which includes Ward 22 of Brighton, Ward 5 of Cambridge and the City of Newton.

Mr. Muldoon, a life-long resident, is well known as a funeral director throughout the Brighton district, being with the business of his late father since 1933. By avocation he is a chiropractor, confining his practice to the student, conducting a foot clinic at the Long Island Hospital.

Mr. Muldoon is a graduate of Holy Cross College and holds a Doctor of Surgical Chiropractic from Temple University. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, the Massachusetts Funeral Directors' Association, and is a director of the Holy Cross Club of Boston. During World War II, he served as a staff officer in the U. S. Merchant Marine, with sea duty in the Atlantic area.

Bolduc in No. 22 took home the victor's share of the purse by copping the main event.

Both these boys will be at the Norwood stock car races tonight (Thursday) and Saturday to do battle with the rest of the field.

George Lewis of Newton, driving car No. 17 won the first consolation race at the Norwood Arena stock car races last Saturday night before a roaring crowd of 8000 fans. George will again be back in action tonight and Saturday.

Since her arrival in the United States last fall on a study visit, Miss Frank attended the Western Reserve University School of Nursing in Cleveland for advanced academic training, and has visited the National Red Cross headquarters, and attended the national convention in Detroit. She will complete her year in the United States with visits to the Boston and New York chapters.

During her visit in Newton, Miss Frank will observe a Home Nursing class in Mother and Baby Care, will attend a meeting of the polio recruitment committee, and confer with volunteer chairmen of Home Nursing, Nurse Enrollment, Nurses' Aides and Disaster Nursing. She will observe volunteers in action at Newton-Wellesley Hospital and Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital, will visit the Regional Blood Center, and the Junior Red Cross Training Center where Home Nursing will be discussed in relation to Junior Red Cross activities, and will also observe the chapter's Water Safety program at Crystal Lake. Arrangements are being made for her to visit other community health agencies.

Miss Frank plans, as a result of her studies in the United States, to make revisions in the curriculum, in the school of nursing with which she is associated. She finds that nursing education in Germany is not as advanced as in the United States, due to the war.

During her stay in Newton, Miss Frank will reside in the nurses' dormitory at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Three Week Music Classes Being Held On Lasell Campus

Classes in singing, dancing, instrumental work and music appreciation will be conducted these three weeks by seniors of the American Institute of Normal Methods on the Lasell Junior College Campus, Auburndale, for children from the new Williams School. A music festival, "The Mid-Century Jubilee," July 22, to which all are invited, will terminate the summer session.

James Remley, director of music in the Newton Schools, is in charge of the junior high school course; supervising the audio-visual course is J. Collins Lingo, of Youngstown, Ohio, a former Newton teacher. Dr. Russell V. Morgan, director of music in the Cleveland, Ohio schools, is director of the institute.

Urges Safety Rules Be Observed on Vacation Trips

"If you are planning a trip," Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department said, "you should plan for your safety as thoroughly as you do for your comfort and overnight accommodations."

"In spite of the general uniformity that we've come to expect throughout the country in the matter of traffic laws, signs, and signals," he continued, "there continue to be differences and discrepancies that can trap the tourist unfamiliar with local rulings and conditions."

"Consult the state police upon starting a trip. They are anxious to make your vacation within their borders a safe, interesting visit."

"The National Safety Council recently polled the officials of 48 states, not only on differences existing between state speed limits, but also on other factors in each state that might be confusing or dangerous to the unwary out-of-stater."

"According to the poll, the officials showed great concern over driving conditions brought about by unfamiliar topography. Flat, level states reported that the biggest danger to drivers unfamiliar with such terrain was the feeling of overconfidence. This often lulls the driver into drowsiness, excessive speed—or both.

"The officials of mountain states such as Colorado have pointed out that drivers unfamiliar with mountain driving have a tendency to hug the center stripe too closely. This creates a hazardous situation for both themselves and drivers in the other lane.

"Other hazards brought to light by the National Safety Council's poll, include tourists who do not pull off the road-way before stopping to admire the scenery . . . extremely narrow roads found in the rural areas of many states . . . wide expanses of open space that result in the driver miscalculating his gasoline requirements, and the danger found in some southern, western and southwestern states of roaming wildlife and livestock.

"The slogan that has been selected for July's program is, 'Have a SAFE Trip!' concluded Chief Purcell.

Oak Hill District First In Newton to Complete Residential Organization

Oak Hill has the distinction of being the first section of Newton to have its top residential organization complete for the fall Red Feather Campaign.

William D. Bradshaw, Oak Hill chairman, has gathered around him a strong organization to tell the Chest story to the residents of this fast growing Newton district. Working with him will be William S. Hershman, Harvey F. Kazmier, Eric A. Bianchi, and Mrs. Franklin S. Snyder as assistant chairmen, and Paul B. Cavanagh, Harvey White, Franklin F. Flaschner, Robert A. Evans, and Horace U. Ransom, Jr., as majors.

Heading the sixteen teams in the area will be Ralph A. Nutter, G. Russell Mason, Arnold Eisen, Mrs. R. K. Hubbell, Mrs. M. Vasalotti, Mrs. Homer C. Sowles, Louis Wolk, J. Dell Baster, Mrs. Joseph P. Cohen, Milton Goldberg, Henry S. C. Cummings, Harry C. Blake, Richard A. Keating, Edward P. Andersen, Frederick G. Fisher, Jr. and Fred C. MacMillan.

Mr. Bradshaw is enthusiastically interested in the necessary and worthwhile services rendered citizens of Newton and Metropolitan Boston by the member agencies of the Newton Community Chest and United Community Services. In laying his plans for the campaign he is working closely with Harry M. Myers, last year's chairman for Oak Hill, who, this year, is a Division Assistant Chairman in charge of Newton, Oak Hill, Chestnut Hill, and Waban Hill.

Among the latest entrants from Newton in the competition at the Greater Boston Fels to take place in the Malden Municipal Stadium Sunday, July 30 is Winnes Mulkerriens of 281 Otis street, West Newton. Miss Mulkerriens will compete in the dancing events.

Funds Voted for Youth Center in Nonantum, Work to Begin Soon

Action was taken at the Board of Aldermen meeting Monday night on the proposed Recreational Building to be erected on a site adjacent to the Hawthorne Playground off Watertown street, in Nonantum, with a total appropriation of $84,000 passed by the members of the Board, after almost an hour of discussion.

Restrictions On Water Use Lifted

Water Commissioner Joseph J. Murphy has notified the citizens of Newton that all restrictions on the use of water are hereby terminated, and water may be used for any purpose at any time.

The commissioner wishes to thank the citizens of Newton for their cooperation during the time the restrictions were imposed, and trusts that the present method of supply will eliminate the need of re-imposing future curtailments on the use of water.

Newton Pastor Named to Post in Boston Area

Appointment of Monsignor Eric F. MacKenzie, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart in Newton Center, as auxiliary bishop of the Boston archdiocese was made public Wednesday evening at the National Catholic Welfare Conference in Washington.

The announcement came directly from Pope Pius XII in Rome, and forwarded to the convention in Washington by the apostolic delegate in the United States.

Msgr. MacKenzie was named to the post along with Msgr. Thomas F. Markham of Lowell, and both will succeed Bishop John J. Wright of the Worcester diocese.

The former pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart was for nearly 20 years a professor of canon law and moral theology at St. John's Seminary in Brighton. He was born in Boston Dec. 6, 1894, graduated from Boston College in 1914 and ordained by Cardinal O'Connell on Oct. 20, 1918.

Funds for Street Improvement Is Recommended

At the Monday night meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood recommended an appropriation of $181,000 for the reconstruction of 23 streets. The list of streets is as follows:

- Ward 1 — Richardson street, Mt. Ida street, and Surrey road.
- Ward 2 — Beaumont avenue and Madison avenue.
- Ward 3 — Border street, Perkins street, Shaw street, and Winthrop street.
- Ward 4 — Auburn street, Melrose street, Chaske avenue, and Woodland road.
- Ward 5 — Annawan road, Bound Brook road and Upland avenue.
- Ward 6 — Cedar street, Hobart road, Jackson street, and Walnut street.
- Ward 7 — Copley street, Huntington road, and Carleton street.

Fire Losses High Last Year

Careless smoking heads the list of causes of fires last year, according to an annual report of the Newton Fire Department issued by Chief John E. Corcoran, and losses due to fire reached a new high since 1943, estimated at $135,609.91. The 1943 damages by fire amounted to $142,729.58, but the figure has shown a decrease until last year.

Building losses topped the list at $92,863.65, contents totaled $37,979.76, and damages to automobiles and miscellaneous fires came to $4,766.50.

Fires due to short circuits was second in causes, defective oil and range burners third, and children and matches fourth.

Newton Man in Europe, Study D.P. Problem

Walter H. Bieringer of 28 Wolcott street, Chestnut Hill, pioneer volunteer worker on behalf of refugees and founder of the Boston Committee for Refugees in the early thirties, is in Europe studying problems of the Displaced Persons.

As chairman of the Massachusetts Committee on Displaced Persons, to which he was named about a year ago by Governor Dever, Bieringer left last Sunday by plane from New York as a member of a special committee appointed by the United States Displaced Persons Commission.

In Germany and Austria, Bieringer and other members of the mission will study displaced persons processing centers. They will also consider methods of speeding up immigration of DPs to the United States as a result of the newly liberalized Displaced Persons Act. Later they will meet with IRO officials in Geneva to outline a program.

Tests Indicate Decline In Health Reg.

Harlan R. Kingsbury, chief inspector for the Newton Health Department reports a summer laxity in Newton restaurants and drinking places in complying with the Health Department regulations concerning utensils.

Officials report that taverns have complied with Department regulations 90 per cent; restaurants have complied 85 per cent; and last on the list were soda fountains, with 79 per cent. Of the 101 samples of milk taken during the past month 85 complied with the rules, 1149 temperature tests were made of milk, and 1051 were all right.

The total decline of all establishments on regulation compliance was from 89 per cent in May to 87 per cent in June. Of the 237 tests taken, 199 complied with Health Department Regulation.

German Nurse Director Visits Health Center

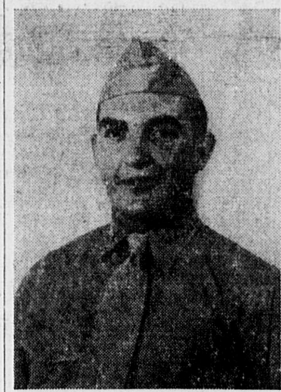

Miss Elsa Frank of Bremen, Germany, was conducted on a tour of the Newton Health Department this week, and was accompanied by Dr. E. M. Morse, director of the department at City Hall.

Miss Frank is director of nurses at a hospital in Bremen, and was very much impressed with the Newton system and equipment. The visiting director was also introduced to Mayor Lockwood.

Miss Frank plans to inspect all the health departments and centers in the city before her return to Germany.

Contract Given

Warns About Two Bad Check Passers

Two men have been passing bad checks signed "Francis Buscall" in Newton which have victimized six different Newton merchants, with a total loss of $116.45 in cash or merchandise, Newton police stated Wednesday. Inspector Joseph B. Lyons has warned all merchants to be on the lookout for the two men, who have been identified by the victims from police photographs as an East Brookfield man and a Springfield resident.

The bad checks have thus far paid for a $3.95 shirt, a dress valued at $8.87, two tire tubes, valued at $3 and $3.50 each; beverages worth $4.50 and $25 from a cashed check. Majority of the checks drawn on either the Shawmut National Bank or the First National Bank of Boston were made out for about $25 each.

National Guard Off for Two Weeks of Maneuvers

With the sombre news of the forthcoming draft call in their minds, 127 National Guardsmen of the 101st Infantry left Saturday morning for two weeks of air-ground operations at Camp Edwards. The men represent Companies F and K, commanded by two World War II veterans Capt. Clarence L. O'Brien and Capt. Thomas F. Hickey, who holds the Distinguished Service Cross and the Purple Heart.

The men joined some 8000 others who also arrived Saturday and they bear the celebrated Yankee Division emblem on their helmets. This division, commanded by Maj. General William I. Rose, has been named one of six National Guard Divisions which will comprise an 18-division Army task force to be ready on call to aid the two divisions now fighting in Korea.

Two rifle platoons and a weapon platoon, equipped with the 57 mm recoilless rifle, 60 mm mortar and bazooka, were part of the group which left Newton.

Executive officer of Company F is Second Lt. E. J. MacKenzie, and the other officers are Second Lt. Victor F. Campisi and Charles Kelloway. In Company E, First Lt. Paul D. Foley is the executive officer.

Several of the men now at Camp Edwards are veterans of World War II, and all of the officers saw overseas service, and all members of the Division are taking a more serious approach to their activities than last year, knowing that soon their maneuvers might be the real thing.

Massachusetts National Guardsmen Midway in Training Schedule

More than ten thousand Massachusetts National Guardsmen are today nearing the end of their first week of summer field training at Camp Edwards. The annual fifteen day training period is the climax of the weekly armory drills held during the winter months.

Largest single unit at camp is the famous 26th Division (YD) under the command of Major General William I. Rose. Over 7000 strong, the 26th is speeding up its tactical training with field problems and transition firing. All missions are performed as near to combat conditions as possible.

The movement of troops to Camp Edwards last Saturday was sparked by an airlift of the entire 104th Infantry Regiment. For the first time in the history of New England this reserve infantry regiment was transported entirely by air with its fighting equipment in a maneuver that was designed to test the mobility of our reserve units.

Over 1,000 officers and men took part in the mission that saw the Army, Navy and Air Force Reserve working closely together. Transport planes were furnished by the 88th Troop Carrier Wing and flown by reserve pilots. The 91st Air Wing (Squadron) flew air cover over the corridor between Westover Air Base and Otis Field, Camp Edwards.

Next year, barring an order calling the National Guard into Federal Service, it is planned to train the Massachusetts group at Pine Camp, New York, where (Continued on Page 8)

THE CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH'S JUNIOR CHOIR which has just recently completed a successful season under the direction of Mrs. Carlton Blanchard. The children's ages range from 9 to fourteen.

Church Choir Ends Season With Success

The Junior Choir at the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale has recently closed a most successful season under the direction of Mrs. Carlton Blanchard, 15 Saxton terrace, Newton Highlands. The choir was organized eleven years ago by the Rev. Richard P. McIntock and a committee of mothers from the newly torn Tuesday Evening Club to provide music for the 9:30 a. m. Church School. During the past decade one hundred and fifty young people between the ages of 9 and fourteen have been members of the choir at one time or another. There have been three directors, Mrs. Ottoline M. Rivers, Mrs. Mary Bond, and Mrs. Blanchard. Not only does the choir furnish the music for church school, it also provides a special anthem at the Family Service at 11 a. m., the third Sunday of each month as well as serving at the Christmas morning service.

Membership of the choir is now 32 and includes Jane Eldredge, Judy Currier, Walter Nordstrom, Burton Reed, William Eldredge, George Hansen, Diane Valley, Robert Bancroft, Janet Keith, June Hansen, Jill Kibbe, Mary Jane Woodland, Coleen Wysocki, Marjorie Geer, Doris Geer, Richard Smith, Judith Nordstrom, Penny Doswell, Lorraine Santucci, Jean Boardman, Nancy McKee, Martha VanDeman, Shirley Hutchinson, Penny Wolbert, Barbara Smith, Roberta Loud, Shirley Whynt, Gay Wysocki, Gaye Clarke, Leslie Clark, Carolyn Hansen, Ellen Moore, and Cynthia Ames.

Million Willed To Son By H. I. Harriman

The will of Utilities Magnate Henry I. Harriman of 825 Centre street, Newton was filed in Probate Court last week, with the major bequest of $1,000,000 going to his son, Gordon I. Harriman of Dallas, Texas.

Harriman, who died on July 4, also left $25,000 each to the four children of his daughter, Mrs. Eunice Milliken of Needham. Others to benefit by the will were Verna B. Martin of Santa Barbara, California, $50,000, and $10,000 to Katharine S. Andrews of Wayland.

The will further stated that his daughter had been provided for by gifts during his life time.

Rites Held For Mrs. Edith Speare

Funeral services for Mrs. Edith Holway Speare, 88, of 28 Summer street, Newton Center, were held at the Newton Center Methodist Church last Saturday afternoon. She was for many years a leader in civic and church life of her community.

Mrs. Speare, widow of Lewis R. Speare, one of the organizers and a former president of the American Automotive Association, died last Wednesday at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

For more than 60 years she took active interest in civic and church affairs in Newton Center, and served as a Red Cross volunteer worker in both world wars.

Mrs. Speare was a member of the Newton Center Women's Club, the American Red Cross, the Newton League of Women Voters, and the Boston Young Women's Christian Association.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Caroline Speare Rohland of Bearsfield, N. Y.

Newton Republican Club Plans Rally

Plans for a Republican Rally to be held at the Weeks Junior High School on Friday evening, September 8, were discussed at a meeting of the executive board of the Newton Republican Club held last Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A.

President Louis J. Callas presided. All Constitutional State candidates have been invited to this rally, several acceptances have already been received. Local candidates will also attend and a large attendance is expected as this meeting will give Newton voters an opportunity to become acquainted with practically all Republican candidates both local and state.

Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., administrative vice-president of the club is making a study of the club's by-laws and is to report back at the next meeting, with recommendations as to changes (Continued on Page 8)

Kiwanis Club Speaker Stresses Importance of Natural Gas for Area

Francis D. Hackett, assistant manager of regional sales for Boston Consolidated Gas Company, was the guest speaker at the Newton Kiwanis Club luncheon held at the Simpson House, today. He spoke on the importance of natural gas to consumers in New England and plans being made by his company for distributing it to its customers. Through the miracle of long distance transmissions, we hope to have natural gas in New England by 1951 or 1952, Hackett declared.

FRANCIS D. HACKETT

Boston Consolidated Gas Company, he stated, wants to get natural gas as quickly as possible. Consequently, Boston Consolidated recently contracted with Algonquin Gas Transmission Company to buy 37,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. "Thus the amount of natural gas which will be available to us annually under this contract," Hackett stressed, "is equivalent in heat content to more than we have ever supplied to our customers in any year in the past!"

This area's immediate supply will be provided by an Algonquin relay station located in Westmoreland County, in Pennsylvania, called the Oakford Storage Project which is 20 miles east of Pittsburgh. This project has the facilities to store natural gas which has been piped from Texas fields for use in New England during the winter.

There were several important reasons, he said, why his company contracted with Algonquin for its natural gas. "First of all, Algonquin is the only pipeline system whose application before the Federal Power Commission provides for a supply of natural gas to Boston and to many of the suburban communities we serve. Secondly, we believe Algonquin can get natural gas to us more quickly than anyone else. Algonquin's line will connect with transmission lines which are now piping gas within 250 miles of Boston. Thirdly, our contract with Algonquin is for a definite amount of gas which gives us greater assurance that we can deliver the gas required of us by our customers. Fourthly, Algonquin's recent hearing in Boston before the Federal Power Commission, included a supply of gas for Boston Consolidated."

Vacation Time Suggestions Offered

Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department today offered the following suggestions for "vacation time."

When leaving for vacation, leave no notes or forwarding addresses outside door.

Leave no keys under the mat, over the door or in the mail box. Be sure all doors and windows are securely locked; or better yet, double locked.

Close the garage doors. Tell your neighbor how long you will be gone. Ask him to keep an eye on your house, but not to give information to anybody regarding your absence.

Discontinue newspapers, milk deliveries and mail deliveries. Arrange with a neighbor to remove advertising matter or other (Continued on Page 8)

Children Pass Red Cross Swimming Tests

During the first week of Red Cross Water Safety Instruction at Crystal Lake, the following children passed tests: Beginners: Betty Ann Murphy, Ann Marie Haley, William Morris; Intermediates: Dorothy Stokes, Marjorie Flynn, Louise Smith, Mary Lou McLuskey; Swimmers: Peggy Hobbs.

Miss Claire McCarthy, Chief Instructor, states that registration for the classes has exceeded that of last year. An evening class for adults is being given every Wednesday evening from 6 to 8 p. m.

Newton Prepares for New Civilian Defense System

Anticipating the passage in the immediate future of a new Civilian Defense law by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood has appointed as Director of Civilian Defense for Newton, Colonel Douglass B. Francis of Oak Hill. A committee formed by Col. Francis at the Mayor's request met Tuesday evening, July 18. Fire Chief John Corcoran and Police Chief Philip Purcell were in attendance with the following committee members:

Director, Douglass B. Francis; chief of staff, Colonel Arthur J. Swett, Newtonville; auxiliary fire director, Dwight Colburn, Newton Centre; auxiliary police director, Robert A. Whidden, West Newton; auxiliary police, South Side, Charles S. Collins, Newton Centre; auxiliary police, North Side, Joseph B. Davis, West Newton; hospital and medical services, Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, West Newton; disaster services, Riley J. Hampton, Newtonville; communications director, Alan W. Burke, Newton Centre; Village civilian defense director, William V. M. Fawcett, Newton; staff secretary, John F. Wheelock, Auburndale.

Although there is no authority as yet for any of these to operate (except for Mr. Hampton as chairman of the Red Cross Disaster Services) the bill which has passed the House and is before the Senate will provide for state and municipal set-ups, establishing powers and methods, authorizing expenditures, etc. The meeting discussed the Civilian Defense bill as it stands, similarities and differences with the ARP of ten years ago, and considered details of organization, the control of traffic on thorough routes in Newton, cooperation with surrounding communities, and related subjects. The Disaster Services could operate now, the Communications in a limited manner, and the Auxiliary Police and Fire are perfecting organization plans and will soon be on an operating basis.

Communications Division would like to receive applications from licensed amateur radio operators residing in Newton; contact Alan Burke, 84 Westminster road, Newton Centre.

2 Newton Students Present at United Nations Institute

Miss Marjorie Moerschner of 50 Colbert road, West Newton, and Miss Diana Voss of 450 Dedham road, Newton Center are among the 115 members attending the fourth and final week of the Mount Holyoke Institute on the United Nations. Twenty five states, the District of Columbia, and four foreign countries are represented by the members, who will hear and participate in a general appraisal of UN accomplishments and prospects.

Such distinguished experts as American Ambassador Philip Jessup, Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., historian and author, and Joseph E. Johnson, newly-elected president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, will address members during the week.

Discussion at the Institute so far during the third annual summer session has centered around problems of technical assistance, occupation of Germany and Japan, and regional forces in the UN, as part of the general theme, "Towards a World Community."

Teen-Agers to Present Fairy Tale on WCRB

Station WCRB will offer on the Kiddies Corner program this Sunday the favorite children's fairy tale, "Rumpelstiltskin," at 8:30 a. m. The program will have special appeal for children, but adults will also find much enjoyment in listening to their favorite fairy tales as they are presented, directed and written by the Fairy Tale Players.

The time is ideal for children who are up in the morning early these warm summer days and will offer them clean, wholesome entertainment that should be welcomed by parents who wish their children to find the right kind of radio listening.

The cast of "Rumpelstiltskin" includes: the lead, Larry O'Connor; Miller's daughter, Barbara Boyle; Raphealla the Witch, Clara Carigan; King, Stanley MacRay; Miller, Charlie MacEachern; Miller's wife, Carolyn Stoddard; Prince, Larry O'Connor; Cockney woman, Barbara Ann Karr; and last but not least, your favorite narrator, Janet Humphreys.

Clara Carigan has written the script for this fairy tale, and all teen-age children have assisted in the directing, without outside coaching. The Fairy Tale Players hope through the success of the weekly Kiddies Corner show to display their talents and move along the way toward a career in show business.

Anne MacMillan Married At Union Church, Waban, July 7

July 7 was the date of the marriage of Miss Anne MacMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stewart MacMillan, 65 Agawam road, to Charles W. Landefeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto J. Landefeld of Willard, Ohio, at the Union Church, Waban.

Rev. William Rice of the Wellesley Hills Unitarian Church officiated at the double ring ceremony, with Earl Benjamin playing the wedding march. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

The honor attendants of the bride were Mrs. William H. MacMillan and Miss Jean MacMillan.

Best man was Otto J. Landefeld Jr., and the ushers were William H. MacMillan, Dr. Alexander S. MacMillan Jr., Paul W. Landefeld, Albert F. Manion, and John Donald McLeod.

Joan Marie McGrath Is Bride of Richard Havern Cahill

In St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, at a 10 o'clock nuptial mass, Saturday, July 15, Miss Joan Marie McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Augustine McGrath of Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. Richard Havern Cahill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Cahill of Everett. The Rev. Francis P. Sullivan officiated and a reception followed at Ten Acres, Wayland.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace made with a fitted bodice and a full skirt terminating in a long train. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a cap of Chantilly lace and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

As a matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas McDermott of Boston wore a white marquisette gown over yellow taffeta, and carried a bouquet of marguerites and delphinium with ivy. The bridesmaids gowned similarly in white over Nile green taffeta, and carrying bouquets of white daisies and delphinium, were Miss Nancy McGill of Newtonville, Miss Eleanor Cahill of Everett, and Mrs. Robert A. McGrath of Washington, D. C.

The bridegroom's brother, Mr. John Cahill of Everett, was the best man, and the ushers included another brother, Mr. Alfred Cahill of Medford, the bride's brothers, Dr. Paul C. McGrath of Newtonville, and Mr. Robert A. McGrath of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Theodore Stegmaier of Middleboro.

The bride is a graduate of Regis College. Mr. Cahill was graduated from Boston College. After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and Knoxville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Cahill will live in Huntsville, Ala.

Former Newton Minister Performs at Daughter's Wedding

Formerly minister of the Second Church in Newton for fifteen years, the Rev. Boynton Merrill, now minister of the First Congregational Church of Columbus, Ohio, officiated at the marriage of his daughter, Miss Elizabeth C. Merrill, to Mr. John F. Fitzgerald of New York City, which took place in the First Congregational Church of Wolfboro, N. H. A small reception followed at the home of the bride's parents on Lake Wentworth in East Wolfboro, N. H.

Mr. David P. Flitner, brother-in-law of the bride, gave her in marriage, and Mrs. Flitner was her sister's only attendant. Mr. Henry M. Gallagher, Jr., of Greenwich, R. I., was the best man for the bridegroom, son of Mrs. John Fitzgerald of New York City and the late Mr. Fitzgerald. The ushers were Mr. William A. Fielder of Brant Beach, N. J., and Mr. David P. Flitner of Brooklyn, New York.

Special guests, in addition to the bridegroom's mother, were his sister Miss Frances Fitzgerald, Mrs. Alfred Hutchinson of Danvers, Miss Susan Wright of Columbus, Ohio, and Mr. Robert Pawle of Natick, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Young of West Newton and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Campbell of West Newton.

The bride was graduated from Wellesley College in 1949. The bridegroom was graduated in 1949 from Antioch College, after serving in the Army Air Force. They will live in Brooklyn, New York.

Children's Day Camp Continues To August 23

The second period of the Jewish Community Center Day Camp will begin on Thursday, July 27, and extend through Wednesday, August 23, a period of four weeks, it was announced by Ira Grishaver and Miriam Kallen, co-chairmen of the Day Camp Committee. The Day Camp is enjoying its greatest season since its inception, with a total of over 200 children.

Programs are conducted from four areas, two in Brookline serving the Brookline, Brighton and Allston areas, and two in Newton serving the entire Newton area. In Newton, the Ward School at 10 Dolphin street, serves the children from 4-6, and Temple Emmanuel at 385 Ward street serves the older children from 7-13 years. A private camp site in Sharon is used twice weekly on Tuesdays and Thursdays where the children have a complete outdoor program, including two swimming periods per day.

All day camp areas are under the direction of Sumner N. Greenberg, Director of Activities at the Jewish Community Center.

Registration for the Newton area may be made by calling Mrs. Grodsky at Temple Emanuel, BI 4-5426. Admission to the day camp is open to children of all faiths. The Jewish Community Center is a member agency of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies, of the United Community Services, Inc., and affiliated with the National Jewish Welfare Board.

Local Driver Wins at Norwood

Bill (Doc) McKenzie of 25 Bemis road, Newton, driving car No. 40, won the first heat at the Norwood Arena stock car races last Saturday night before a crowd of 7500 fans.

"Doc" will again be back in action at Norwood this Thursday and Saturday.

This Saturday, "Hop" Harrington and "Slim" Ingalls, the winners of the two features at last Saturday's stock car races at the Norwood Arena, will again be back to try to repeat their victories. Harrington is coming to the fore in the races at Norwood and this week he says he will have his car, the No. 29, really moving in an attempt to repeat. Ingalls, of course, has the same thought and between these two "leadfoots" they should provide plenty of fast-moving action.

One of the things to watch this Saturday will be the performance of the Dynamite Special No. 42. Frank Litwin, owner of the very successful present Dynamite Special, has stated that he has completed a new and even speedier No. 42, which, if it comes up to expectations, will really give the boys something to shoot for. The racing at Norwood will have to be terrific to equal or surpass the races of last week when there were flips, spills and smash-ups in practically every race.

The "jackpot purse" now totals $700, and will be a luscious plum for some "outside" driver to try to capture this week.

Lt. (j.g.) Robert R. Nardone, USN, of 45 Bellevue street, Newton, is one of 31 Naval medical officers recently nominated to receive instruction under the Naval Graduate Training Program. Lt. Nardone, a graduate of the Tufts College School of Medicine, was nominated from the Naval Hospital, Newport, R. I., to a residency in obstetrics and gynecology at the Naval Hospital, Philadelphia, Penn.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

Newton Twi League Round-up

With three classes comprising the Newton Twi League, the sports minded citizens of this city have many opportunities to view all the best baseball talent in Newton.

The league is split up into three divisions, with the older men participating in competition in the American Division, and the younger baseball players making up the National A Division and the National B Division.

Top team in the American Division is the Scribes with a percent record of 15 wins, one loss, and only seven defeats. Coached by Al Scaffidi, the Scribes look to be the class of the division, and feature one of the best hurlers in the city circuit, John Bent.

The Mullen Brothers bring up the second position with 13 victories, two ties, and six losses, and has a good chance to overcome the leaders. Jim Murphy is at the controls of this club which is presently involved in a winning streak, taking seven out of the last 10 starts.

The Italian-American Club, managed by Aldo Cairo, occupies third place with a standing of 12 wins, two ties, and only seven defeats. The Waban Indians complete the first division of the American class with 10 wins, six ties, and six losses.

In the National A Division is headed by Upper Falls and Lower Falls, both tied for first place with identical records of 15 wins and six losses. The Newton Highland Chiefs place third with 12 and 9, and close by is the West Newton Colonels with a 11-19 standing.

Electric Storm Causes $10,000 Fire In Waban

Damage amounting to $10,000 was done to two Newton homes during Wednesday afternoon's sudden thunder storm when a lightning bolt struck two houses simultaneously. No one was hurt.

Fire broke out in the home of Mrs. Florence A. Durocher of 8 Selden street, Waban after striking the front porch of the residence of Miss Jean LaFayette of 21 Hinckley road. Only slight damage was done to the front porch.

At the time of the lightning flash Mrs. Durocher was seated in her living room with her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Finnerty of 15 Hinckley road. Mrs. Finnerty's 10-year-old son was also present.

Engines 6 and 7 answered the call, and were assisted by Ladder

Vacation Drivers Are Cautioned By Chief Purcell

"Motorists, when you take a vacation trip this summer, you will be responsible for the safety of those in your car, for occupants of other cars on the road, and also for pedestrians on the road." This reminder to local drivers came today from Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department.

"Remember, wherever you travel—on the highways, on the side roads, in small towns and in cities—there will be pedestrians crossing or walking on

All Kinds of Vacations

Summer is vacation time. Workers by the millions are now, or are about to be, enjoying relaxation after weeks of arduous toil and perhaps with it, mental exhaustion.

Motor travel is now at its peak and of course with it unfortunately, will come fatalities. Festivities of all kinds abound for those who seek excitement rather than relaxation. Sports predominate with many who feel the urge to exercises in the hopes, perchance, of reducing.

Yes for many vacation time means travel time. Yet for others it does not necessarily mean a change of scenery. Take for instance John Q. Public as an example.

John Q. invariably starts his two week vacation by storing provisions, buying a sun-lamp and purchasing a few good books. For his vacation, John Q., will stay at home except for an occasional movie, or a short motor or boat trip. His beautiful tan, which his co-workers will probably envy, undoubtedly came from that sun-lamp. The heat of the season has no worries for him. He takes his swim in a nice cool tub of water. Lacking sea breezes, he probably gets the same result from an electric fan. For relaxation, he has his books. For his rest, he obtains that in his good, old and comfortable bed.

Yes sir, John Q. Public may not travel, he may not see the sights nor enjoy the thrills of the dance hall in the country or at the seashore. But for real comfort and for real relaxation, John Q. has found the answer and he is supremely satisfied with the world and a real vacation.

Needham and Miles in Governor's Race... Lodge's Support of Denfeld May Be a Factor. Excessive Pensions for State Office Holders.

The race for the Republican nomination for Governor is now so confused that it is extremely difficult to assess the present and potential strength of the various contenders.

Two candidates who appear to have been steadily advancing their candidacies in the past week are General Daniel Needham and Judge Frankland W. L. Miles.

Needham seems to be attracting the support of many of the top Republican leaders, particularly in the Sinclair Weeks wing of the party. The endorsement he received from ex-Representative Henry L. Shattuck of the Back Bay, one of Boston's most influential and respected figures, gave a big boost to his candidacy.

Judge Miles has been moving ahead on the force and strength of his own personality. He is a commanding figure and a good speaker. He is offering himself as a "new face," and he has made an impression upon the audiences he has addressed.

Former Attorney General Clarence A. Barnes has perhaps the most stable strength. He started early, got the jump on the other candidates and seems to have tapered off a little in recent weeks. One thing to remember is that Barnes will have first place on the ballot, and that may prove important.

Former Lieutenant Governor Arthur W. Coolidge has been hurt by the widening field. His prospects of winning the right to run against Governor Dever suffered a blow when Needham and Admiral Denfeld stepped into the contest, and his hopes now rest on his ability to draw heavily from the ranks of the Republican legislators, many of whom will have fights of their own.

Admiral Denfeld is going to have difficulty getting around the fact that he has never filed a state income tax return in Massachusetts, and some Republicans were not at all impressed when they learned that he has not yet been enrolled a full month in their party. Denfeld, of course, is a political darkhorse. There is no way of estimating his vote-getting appeal or of forecasting how much the question of his legal residence may hurt him.

He is getting enough support from the followers of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., that he must be counted a factor in the race until such time as it is definitely shown that he is not eligible for the Governorship. The fact of the matter is that most of the political seers would hesitate to rule out any of the five in a fight of this kind. While Needham and Miles have been gaining ground recently, neither started with the strength of Barnes or Coolidge.

A good many of the Republican politicians are waiting for the deadline for filing nomination papers before committing themselves on the battle. Next Tuesday is the last day for submitting nomination signatures to local boards for certification. After that the lines in the contest should gradually become more clearly drawn.

For several years now the members of the State Legislature have given out pensions with free-handed generosity to a lot of people, including themselves.

In many cities and towns as well as the State the amount of money that must be set aside annually to cover the pensions being paid to former employees, many of whom had only short periods of service, represents a very substantial item of tax expense.

We are not referring to the State, city, county or school worker who pays a portion of his wages into a pension fund over a long period of years and then in the twilight of his life retires on a pension which he has earned.

But it is unfair and preposterous for such an employee to retire on a pension of $24 a week after 35 years of service while some political favorite, who has worked 10 or 12 years, is allowed from $50 to $75 for the rest of his life.

It wasn't at all surprising that a spokesman for the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations reared up and screamed with outrage the other day about some of the goings-on on Beacon Hill.

One of the cases cited was that of Paul D. Howard, former deputy Secretary of State.

As the Federation pointed out, Mr. Howard was on the public payroll in one capacity or another most of his adult life. He considered himself somewhat indispensable, and when Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin assumed office and decided to fire him, Mr. Howard went into court to prevent such an indignity.

The courts decided that Cronin was within his rights in giving the heave-ho to Mr. Howard, and in some fashion the State has managed to stumble and struggle along for the past 18 months without his services.

Now it develops that earlier this year Howard persuaded one of the legislators to file a bill which would give him a $3600-a-year pension for the rest of his life.

The legislative committee on pensions recommended the rejection of the bill, but when its report reached the Senate the original Howard bill was substituted for the committee report, and the measure apparently is on its way to passage.

The Federation of Taxpayers Associations refers to this maneuver as the "feature finale" of last week in the Senate. The Federation also points out that the bill would provide Howard with benefits approximately three times greater than he is entitled to on the basis of what he was willing to pay in.

It seems also that while Mr. Howard was in the employ of the State he declined to increase his payments to the pension fund in order to enlarge the amount he would receive upon his retirement.

To add insult to injury the pension would be retroactive to Feb. 1, 1949, and Mr. Howard would get a lump sum payment of about $4700 right away.

It would be very interesting to have some of the Senators who voted for this gift to Mr. Howard explain exactly why he is entitled to this beneficence.

The time is going to come when the taxpayers, many of whom have difficulty in meeting their own obligations, are going to rise up and hurl out of office those public officials who think nothing of voting lifetime handouts to former payroll patriots.

Testifying before the City Council in Decatur, Ill., Fireman Henry J. Sturkee declared he was convinced beyond all question that the city needed a new fire truck when two boys on bicycles passed him while he was racing to a blaze as fast as the 23-year-old truck would travel. That ought to convince anyone.

Charged with reckless driving in Memphis, Mrs. Louise McCormick told the court she thought at the time the violation was committed that her uncle was driving the car. That belongs in the "Who Me?" department.

Arraigned in Pasadena on a charge of speeding, Clarence A. Bunnell claimed that he had an "intuitive sense of speed." He persuaded Judge William E. Fox to go with him for a test ride, was able to estimate the miles-per-hour speed so closely without looking at the speedometer that the judge found him not guilty.

Mrs. Julia Gideon Whaley of Knoxville, Tenn., was granted a divorce after she showed the judge a penny postcard on which her husband had penned this verse: "Your eyes may shine, Your teeth may grin. But none of my money Will you git. Phooey on you."

After listening patiently while Donald and Mary McClay both listed reasons why the other was unfit to have custody of their two-year-old daughter, Judge Joseph M. Conroy of Jamaica, N. Y., decided they both were right. "Neither of you will get custody," he declared. "In my opinion you both stink." From this distance the Judge doesn't sound very judicial in his utterances either.

In a Baltimore court, Judge Herbert Franklin dismissed a charge of disorderly conduct against Paul Upperman after the latter admitted that he jumped into the Patapsco River from a 40-foot bridge in order to win a $5 bet. "I never had the nerve to do it myself," commented His Honor.

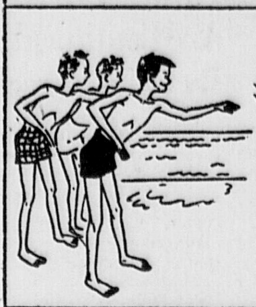

When St. Louis Rent Director Grover C. Vandover ordered rent reductions for her tenants, Mrs. Grace C. Hill promptly mailed him the deed to her house with a note which read: "You are no doubt in better position to operate the property at a profit under your restrictions, so here it is with my blessings."

About the most sensible pronouncement to come out of the Pentagon Building in a long time was the statement from Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson that he had talked it over with the Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force and the joint chiefs and that "none of us are making any speeches the rest of the month." It's about time that some of them devoted all their time to their duties.

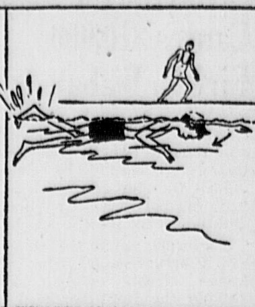

The city's new curfew siren in Ventnor, N. J., was silenced after parents complained that while it served its purpose of warning children to get off the streets at 9:45 it also waked babies who already had been put to bed.

Judge Charles S. Bell paused during a divorce trial in Cincinnati to offer the observation that it is a serious mistake for any man to hand over his entire paycheck to his wife.

Learn to Swim---3

1. The arm-stroke which is most basic to swimming is commonly called the "dog-paddle." Practice sliding the arms forward alternately then pressing backward, first on land, then standing bent forward in shallow water, and finally lying face down.

2. Next combine the "dog-paddle" of the arms with the crude flutter kick previously learned. Start with the glide, add the flutter kick, then add the arms, and you will be able to cover as much distance as one breath will allow.

3. To swim any distance with your newly acquired strokes you must be able to breathe while swimming. This is where "blowing bubbles" comes in. Take the above position in the water. Inhale at one side, then roll the face under water and exhale.

4. Now fit the breathing into the stroke in this way: Start with a prone glide, add the arms, and then put in the breathing. Turn the head to breathe in as one arm is extended beyond the head, exhale under the surface, and repeat each time the same arm extends.

Letters

To the Editor:
I wish to congratulate Donald L. Gibbs, chairman of the Republican City Committee, for the very timely and forceful statement on registration he issued last week.

One can hope that all citizens of Newton took Chairman Gibbs' message to heart, and that each person will make every effort to get himself and his neighbor to City Hall. The job cannot be done by organizational effort alone on the part of the City Committee or any other group. Spontaneous response at the individual level must supplement and make successful the all-out drive for registration.

As a Republican I am very encouraged with the initiative and vigor being shown by the Republican leadership, and I urge every citizen to give Chairman Gibbs a hand.

Sincerely yours,
Christian A. Herter Jr.

Perfect Performance Combination!

The Most Beautiful Thing on Wheels

There's nothing mysterious about automotive power. When all the conversation is over and done, what you want to know is how your car will perform, with your own foot on the accelerator—in traffic or on the highway, today, tomorrow and next year.

Pontiac power plants are deliberately designed and built to give you exactly the kind of power you want, where you want it—power for flashing pick-up, for eager responsiveness in traffic, for effortless ease on the open road.

Put these renowned Pontiac Silver Streak engines to work with Hydra-Matic Drive and you have the perfect performance combination. Nothing could be easier to drive, nothing could be more fun!

You really ought to drive a new Pontiac yourself—its performance is a very eloquent way of saying, dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!

Vets' Quiz

Q — Would an American serviceman paralyzed from the waist down because of action in Korea be entitled to the special VA benefits of an automobile and a grant for buying or building a home designed for "wheelchair living?"

A — He could not get the car, for the law limits motor vehicles at Government expense to World War II veterans only. But he might be eligible for the housing grant if he meets the requirements of the law authorizing special housing.

Q — If I apply for GI Bill training before the July 25, 1951 cutoff date, will I be able to start my course some time after that date?

A — No. Under the law, you actually must be in training on that date. The exceptions are interruptions of training beyond your control, such as summer vacations, illness and the like.

Q — Some years ago I served on active training duty in the National Guard for 15 days. During that period I suffered a disease that resulted in a disability. Am I eligible for disability compensation?

A — No. Public Law 108 states that you must serve for periods "in excess of 30 days" in order to be eligible for compensation for disability resulting from disease. On the other hand, there is no minimum time limit in the case of disability resulting from injury while on active or training duty with the National Guard.

Q — I'm planning to convert my NSLI term policy to a permanent policy. I've heard that in the event of my death my wife will have to take the insurance money on the installment plan. Is that correct?

A — No. You can choose the settlement plan. You can provide for lump-sum payment of the insurance, or you can specify that it be paid in equal monthly installments, ranging from three years to lifetime income.

Veterans and their dependents who desire information concerning their benefits and entitlements are invited to send inquiries to this newspaper. Their questions and the answers will be published in this column.

Carpenter Injured in Roof Fall

MR. WILLIAM A. SKLAR

Overcome by heat while working on a roof last week, carpenter George Wood of 373 Lexington street, Auburndale, lost consciousness and fell 30 feet, suffering head and back injuries and internal complications.

Taken to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and placed on the danger list, the 72-year-old man's condition was reported as fair.

At the time of his fall Wood was working at the home of Mrs. George F. Wilson, 99 Arlington street, Newton.

Food Shortage Not Serious Says Mr. Sklar

A veritable horn of plenty, the Newton Super Market at Newton Corner, under the direction of Mr. William A. Sklar, offers positive proof that its food departments are not being depleted due to the crisis in Korea and rumors of shortages.

Rather, Mr. Sklar insists, these unfounded rumors, which also have led to rises in prices, have been perpetuated by consumers buying more than their normal needs and thus causing prices to soar.

While a minor run on the hard-to-get products, reminiscent of the situation during World War II, continues, the Super Market stands ready to serve the citizens of Newton in the same competent manner that it has maintained since its opening last February.

Mr. Sklar, president of the Newton Super Market, has assured that there is no scarcity of food, but on the contrary, all types are in plentiful supply.

Poultry seems to be the best buy of the week, with freshly killed chickens available, as well as native fowl, broilers, fryers, and turkeys.

With the consumer's concern over food shortages and the present international crisis, there is little likelihood of any reduction in prices, but however, Mr. Sklar is waging a private battle in behalf of the housewife to keep his prices at a minimum.

The Super Market's able president further insists that in the face of probable shortages, his establishment in Newton Corner can and will provide every and any buyer.

Family Service Bureau Of Newton, A Wise Counselor

By Dorothy G. Baker

Since 1889 the Family Service Bureau of Newton has been working actively toward the goal of strengthening family life in the community; of helping individuals achieve a more satisfying adjustment within themselves and to their environment.

As Mrs. Catherine S. Holden, the general secretary, says, "The well-balanced family agency today is a direct reflection of the pressures of daily living within the community it serves. The practical needs of family life must be met—such as help with financial planning, budgeting, and employment. In addition, the demand for help with subtle and complicated emotional problems has become widespread and increasingly insistent. Costly social ills result if people cannot be helped to understand their situations and to undertake new ways of handling them. A carefully planned, strongly supported program of family counseling services has a basic, essential role in meeting all such needs."

Family counseling is essentially a personal affair and regarded as highly confidential by this Red Feather agency. However, as a typical illustration of service rendered by the Bureau, the files offer the following case herewith carefully disguised.

Domestic Crisis Averted

It had been a very hard day for pretty Mrs. Smith. Her usually nice little boys had seemed like problem children and she had punished them unjustly. Her husband's elderly mother had burst into tears when Mrs. Smith scolded her for interfering. Bills had come in interfering. In desperation she called on the family Service Bureau for advice, saying that she had been reading articles on family problems in magazines and learned of these agencies which offered counseling services.

The case worker sympathized with Mrs. Smith's obvious unhappiness but sensed a deeper trouble than the concern about practical affairs. She had previously handled these quite competently as the worker found through her pleasant but skillfully probing questioning.

Mrs. Smith talked with the worker on several different occasions before she could bring herself to admit that her real unhappiness arose from worry about her marriage. Her husband was failing at his job although he was a highly skilled person. He was irritable with her and she could no longer encourage him as she had done formerly. Both had looked forward to marriage as a solution to the unhappiness of earlier years and now that it was failing, life seemed to have no meaning.

Basically, husband and wife needed each other so much that each felt himself to be a failure when the other was critical or showed signs of unhappiness. With the help of the case worker, Mrs. Smith was able to gain a better understanding of how important the marriage was to her. She was then able to talk to her husband about how they could get along better and to persuade him to come to the agency for help also.

As each talked about his feeling of failure with the case worker, who recognized the many fine qualities which each really possessed, a feeling of mutual confidence grew. Both came to understand that they never criticized each other unless each was worried about himself or herself. As this was clarified, each concentrated on discussing his personal fears and worries instead of merely placing the blame on the other. Thus each was able to help the other instead of adding to the burdens. It seemed almost a miracle when Mrs. Smith could discuss calmly the children's development not as a problem but as a normal state of affairs. With his wife's renewed interest in her home and with things going smoothly there, Mr. Smith soon lost his apathy and pre-occupation while at business and as a result received an advancement with an increase in salary.

Much practical help was given the family by this Red Feather agency in regard to financial affairs, employment difficulties, household management, care of the children, and medical care. Mr. and Mrs. Smith stated, however, that it was the worker's faith in their ability to work out their own difficulties and her understanding of how they had run into trouble, that had saved their marriage and given each a feeling of self-confidence and renewed faith in the future.

New Play At Wellesley College

Executive Director Eldon Winkler has announced that John Carradine, America's outstanding Shakespearean actor, will make personal appearances at the Wellesley College Theatre-School July 18 through 22, starring in the hilarious comedy success, "The Silver Whistle," only recently released for summer theatre production. This will be Mr. Carradine's first appearance in this play; featured with him will be Eleanor Wilson, who will recreate the role she played in the original production.

Mr. Carradine, long famous for his roles on both stage and screen, had just completed two seasons starring as the philosophical Ragspicker in "The Madwoman of Chaillot." Prior to that, he starred in "Volpone," "Gaiety," and "The Duchess of Malfi" on Broadway, starred with his own touring Shakespeare Company, inn such roles as Hamlet, Shylock and Othello, and made 226 movies, among the most popular of which are "Stage Coach," "Of Human Bondage," "Grapes of Wrath," and "Captains Courageous."

Miss Wilson, a talented actress, is best known for her roles in the "State of The Union," "Watch On The Rhine," and "Claudia." A former student at Dublin Gate Theatre, she has toured extensively in the U. S., playing in 124 cities.

Two Women Are Win-It Winners

Two Newton women struck it rich last week on station WCRB's quiz program, Win-It. They are Mrs. Catherine Riley, of 12 Melville avenue, Newtonville, and Mrs. Robert H. Burke, 427 Albe-marle road, Newtonville.

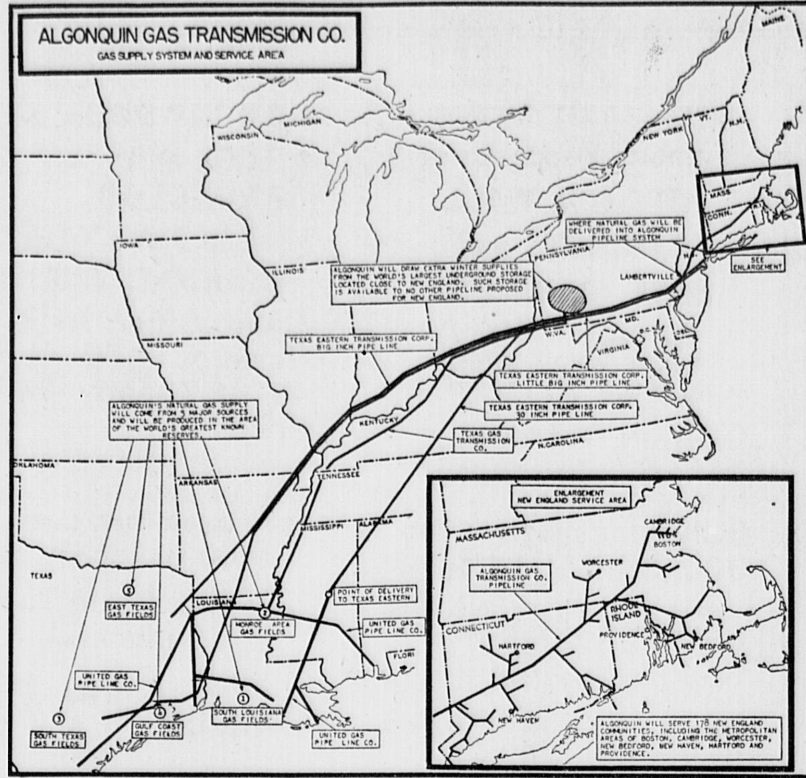

Last week the Waltham station gave away one of its most spectacular prizes—a full 3-day vacation at the Hotel Loon Lake in the Adirondacks with all expenses paid.

Twice daily the program continues to award radio sets, plate glass mirrors, watches, jewelry and other valuable prizes. At the end of the current week the total prizes given to listeners will amount to $4500.

Win-It is heard twice every day on WCRB, at 11:05 a. m. and 6:05 p. m.

Shoes Need Steel

Boston (SF)—An average pair of men's shoes has about 100 pieces of steel, including eyelets, nails and shoelace tips.

BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY will purchase its supply of natural gas from Algonquin Gas Transmission Company. Map shows the area from which Algonquin's supply of natural gas will come. Also indicated on the map is the world's largest underground storage field located close to New England from which Algonquin will draw extra winter supplies.

ROBERT E. HOULIHAN

Marines—

The course is designed to instruct college students during their vacations, and the Platoon Leaders Class gives two training periods of six weeks each. Upon graduation from college, the men will receive their reserve commissions.

Also selected was Peter L. Hillier, son of Mrs. H. C. Whiteley, of 1564 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, a student at Wesleyan University. Their time at the Marine school will be divided between classroom lectures, problems, field demonstrations and maneuvers. Several days are spent on the rifle range where such weapons as the rifle, carbine, and pistol are fired.

For the final three weeks, the students move from their modern barracks to the camps of the Quantico reservation for training under field conditions.

Guard—

Morale and spirits are high midway through the training period with softball, baseball, swimming and boxing tournaments being held to crown the 1950 champions. The spectre of mobilization seems to have little effect on the workmanlike way in which the troops go about their everyday training. Dances and movies are a welcome relief from the rigorous schedule.

Kiwanis—

"Another important reason," Hackett asserted, "is the adequacy of gas reserves available to our supplier, since Algonquin is backed by tremendous reserves. And Algonquin will have access through its supplier to the largest underground storage field in the world, which means greater protection for our customers. No other long distance pipeline has storage facilities of this magnitude available to it. This storage field is situated in Pennsylvania within 500 miles of Boston. The availability of such a tremendous storage project is an essential link between the gas fields of the Southwest and the consuming public of New England."

"Still another important fact is that Algonquin rates are the lowest thus far offered in New England," Hackett stated. "Also, Algonquin is a New England company formed by New Englanders to furnish natural gas service to New England customers."

Boston Consolidated Gas Company, in pressing its plans for the introduction of natural gas into its system, has added to its staff, he said, men who have had practical experience in the utilization of natural gas.

He stated many small companies have found it advantageous to distribute straight natural gas. But many large metropolitan areas mix natural gas with manufactured gas. That is what Boston Consolidated proposes to do, he added.

"We in the Northeast," Hackett said, "are 1500 to 2000 miles away from the source of natural gas, on the end of a long pipeline with many customers between here and Texas. Unusually heavy demands on the pipeline during periods of cold weather in New England make it desirable to have gas manufacturing facilities at this end of the line."

The introduction of natural gas will mean cheaper rates for industry and homes, he explained. This reduction, however, may not be as much as some have been led to expect as a result of careless comparisons with costs and rates in other areas where natural gas is already available and is low in cost because they are nearer to the wells, he concluded.

Rally—

which seem advisable in view of the club's rapidly growing membership.
Harris A. Reynolds, 58 Circuit Avenue, and Carlton P. Merrill, 124 Newtonville Avenue, were appointed joint chairmen of the membership and registration committee. They are to organize city-wide committees to encourage eligible voters to register for the election and also to further increase the membership of the club.

Edward J. Pease of Franklin street was appointed chairman of the Public Relations Committee by President Callas. The work of this committee is to keep people informed as to the activities and the accomplishments of the club and of the opportunities for constructive work in educating Newton people as to the ideals of the Republican Party and to encourage them to take a greater interest and a more active part in civic leadership.

Candidate Affirms His Political Affiliation

Although he will appear on the primary ballots as "unenrolled," Mr. Christian A. Herter, Jr., of 11 Sylvan avenue, West Newton, a candidate for representative from the Fourth Middlesex District, has made it clear that his political affiliation is the Republican party.

Reason for the ballot's designation is because of a slight legal procedure that left Mr. Herter, who is a member of the Newton Republican City Committee and one of the founders of the Newton Republican Club, without party membership.

Enrolling as a member of the Republican party prior to his entrance in the service, the candidate assumed after his discharge that his first registration in the party was sufficient, but discovered at City Hall that the law required his registration to be recorded 30 days before July 25, if his affiliation was to be indicated on the ballot.

The situation cannot be remedied on the ballot, but Mr. Herter has flatly stated that he is enrolled as a Republican, and admits of his unawareness of the technicality of the law. The candidate was informed of his status in the coming September elections by friends, but was five days late to state his preference as a Republican on the ballot.

Mr. Herter further reaffirmed his partisanship to the Republican party and will go ahead in his campaign for the office of representative from the Fourth Middlesex District.

Nigel Bruce to Star at Wellesley

Nigel Bruce, long famous for his roles of Dr. Watson in the Sherlock Holmes films and radio programs, comes to Wellesley College Theatre-School July 25 for a week's engagement in the delightful British comedy, "Yes Mr. Lord." Mr. Bruce, who took to the London stage in 1913, came to America in 1926 and ever since has been active before the Hollywood cameras, in radio, and in television. A few of his most successful pictures were "Hound of the Baskervilles," "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," "The Rains Came," "Rebecca," "Susan and God," and "Journey for Margaret."

Featured with Mr. Bruce will be Patricia White, Miss White, talented motion picture, stage and television star, comes to Wellesley for her third consecutive season, and may be remembered for her performances in the summer theatre's production of "John Loves Mary," "Made in Heaven" with Richard Arlen, and "Accent on Youth" with Paul Lukas.

Figures Show Rise in Surplus Over Past Year

Recent figure from the Comptroller's office shows a net surplus of June 30, 1950 of $1,275,416.47. This is an increase of $633,263.66 over the net surplus figure of June, 1949, according to a report issued by that department this week.

Announce Officers For 1950 Red Feather Campaign

C. Evan Johnson, Recreation Commissioner for the City of Newton, and Wesley S. Merritt, bandmaster of the band and teacher of music at Newton High School, will serve as Chairmen in the Municipal Division for the 1951 Red Feather Campaign. Mr. Merritt will be in charge of the solicitation of the public school teachers, and Mr. Johnson will have responsibility for the solicitation of all other City employees. Announcement of these appointments was made this week by Winslow H. Adams, Newton Campaign Chairman.

Harold A. Wooster, City Librarian, will serve as assistant chairman in the Municipal General section, and the following captains have been named by Mr. Johnson: Margaret Briday, accounting department; Mrs. Kathryn E. Bolduc, assessors department; Bernard V. Coughlin, building department; Patricia Regan, city clerk's office; Howard F. Field, engineering department; Mary M. Mulligan, executive department; assistant chief William C. Fanning, fire department; Mrs. Anna Muse, health department; Harold A. Wooster, library department; Lieut. Charles E. Walker, police department; Katherine Howard, recreation department; Joseph A. Delaney, street department; Mrs. Marguerite Cazale, treasury department; Mary L. Visco, veterans services; Margaret Kavanagh, water department; and Mary G. Mahoney, welfare department.

Serving as captains for the public schools in the campaign will be: Frank Simmons, administration department; Reubenna Hickey, Angier school; Elva O. Ring, Bigelow Junior High school; Herbert Callahan, Bowen school; Edna Cunniffe, Burr school; Mildred Fahey, Cabot school; Julia Tobin, Claffin school; Mrs. Mary T. Chapman, Davis school; Helen Spelman, Day Jr. High school; Rhoda White, Emerson school; Marie Sullivan, Franklin school; Mary MacPartlin, Hamilton school; Ruth Larson, Horace Mann school; L. Frances Knowles, Hyde school; Katherine Kvale, Lincoln-Eliot school; Ruth Burgess, Mason school; Forrest Paige, Newton High school; Rita Cushing, Oak Hill school; and Peabody Home; Mrs. Edna J. Erret, Peirce school; Frances Chater, Rice school; Hazel Stewart, Stearns school; John L. Sullivan, Trade school; Grace O'Hara, Underwood school; Barbara A. Burke, Ward school; Carl M. Penny, Warren Jr. High school; Carl Peterson, Weeks Jr. High school, and Alice Kiernan, Williams school.

In the Red Feather campaign a year ago, the Municipal General section exceeded the goal set for it, and the Schools section came very close to reaching its goal. Messrs. Johnson and Merritt, who are serving for the second year as municipal chairmen, are most optimistic about the possibility of their two groups leading all other divisions this year. There will also be a keen rivalry between the two municipal divisions.

Will of Edwin S. Webster Leaves $100,000 to Nurse

The late Edwin S. Webster of Newton, who died last May 10 and was a founder of the Stone and Webster Corporation, is reported to have left a $100,000 bequest to a 55-year-old Boston nurse who attended him in his last illness.

The nurse, Miss Helen R. Rockwell of 427 Marlboro street, Back Bay, was named beneficiary in a codicil, a supplement to a will, which was dated March 13, 1950.

The bulk of the $9,100,000 estate is left to the widow, Mrs. Jane DeP. Webster of 307 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, under three trusts established by the will, drawn March 12, 1940.

Shares amounting to 100,000 of Stone and Webster capital stock were left to the trustees of the Webster Foundation under another codicil dated July 21, 1948.

A trust fund of $45,000 was set up for Mrs. Webster, and at her death all will be distributed among son, Edwin S. Jr. of New York, two daughters, Mrs. Mabel W. Harte of West Virginia, and Mrs. Mary W. Haines of Long Island, N. Y., and five children of a deceased daughter, Mrs. Frances Hian.

Local Couple Retire From Mission Work

Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Chandler of 144 Hancock street, Auburndale, for 39 years missionaries under the American Board of Foreign Missions in China, have been retired with an official vote expressing the gratitude of the American Board for their service. Thirty years of this period were spent in North China, two years in South China, and 7½ years in Boston, while Mr. Chandler was acting secretary for China and later candidate secretary.

The Chandlers did relief work during famines and floods in China, and were there at the start of the Sino-Japanese War. Mrs. Chandler founded and directed the Hsiku Women's Industry in Tientsin, and she aided in writing the script, as well as acting as advisor to the filming of the American Board movie, "Letter from China."

Rev. Chandler was born in Batlagundu, India, of missionary parents, and is a graduate of Yale, B.A., M.A. and B.D. Mrs. Chandler, the former Helen Davis, was born in Kyoto, Japan, the daughter of pioneer American Board missionaries who helped found the first Christian University in Japan. She spent her first 15 years in Japan and completed her education in the United States. In 1910, she married Mr. Chandler, and they began their life together as missionaries that year.

State Exceeds Savings Bond Drive Quota

During the Independence Savings Bonds drive, which recently concluded, $20,302,892 in Series E Savings Bonds were sold in this state, according to a statement released by James V. Toner, state chairman of the Massachusetts Savings Bonds committee. Massachusetts quota for the drive was $18,924,000.

Mr. Toner stated that the Liberty Bell reproduction was seen by thousands of people during its tour throughout Massachusetts and created widespread interest and is now enshrined in Doric Hall at the State House, Boston. Since the beginning of the Treasury Bond program on May 1, 1941, there have been sold in Massachusetts $1,850 million in Series E Bonds.

Mr. Toner paid high tribute to the thousands of volunteer workers who have regularly supported the Savings Bonds program during each drive. In this group are included press, radio, labor and management, banks, national organizations, schools and individuals serving on bond committees.

Youth Injured Driving Stolen Car in Newton

While operating a stolen car, a 19-year-old youth was seriously injured Tuesday night when he sideswiped another car and crashed into a tree on Washington street, in the vicinity of Newton Corner.

Driving the stolen car was Frederick M. Callahan of Orleans road, Burlington, who was lifted from the smashed car and taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital, suffering from critical head, back, and face injuries and placed on the danger list.

Police say Callahan was beginning to enter Newton Corner, coming down from Washington street when a sedan operated by Edmund M. Gallagher, 45 Brook street, Wellesley, made a turn to the left down Waverly avenue. Callahan sideswiped the sedan, hit a tree head-on and was knocked unconscious.

Eight Newton Men Enlist In Army, 60 Notified to Appear for Physicals

Eight men from Newton were among the 36 enlistees from this area to offer their services to the armed forces in the past month, according to the Waltham recruiting station. Of the eight men, six signed for duty with the Army Air Corps. They are:

Warns Motorists About High Beams

"More people are killed in motor vehicle accidents; happening at night than during the daytime," stated Chief of Police Philip Purcell of Newton today regarding the illegal use of high beam headlights.

"Motorists must realize the serious danger of glaring headlights. Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King has appealed to all police chiefs of every community in the Commonwealth to begin an immediate check on this night driving hazard, and police officers of the Newton police department are going to cooperate with the Registrar and members of his department," said Chief Purcell.

In his message to the chiefs, Registrar King pointed out that modern sealed beam headlights were developed to help correct night driving hazards and that when properly aimed will produce a stronger and better driving light but one that is dangerously glaring when thrown into the eyes of approaching drivers.

The law provides that operators of motor vehicles must tilt their lights to the low beam when approaching within 500 feet of an on-coming vehicle or when driving on well-lighted highways.

"Massachusetts motorists must comply with this regulation while driving in the nighttime. Education in the proper use of sealed beam lamps has been emphasized for several years past and there is no excuse for failure to comply with the law," concluded Registrar King and Chief Purcell.

Newton Man To Visit Quebec

Midshipman Douglas S. H. Anderson, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. H. Anderson of 32 Pickwick road, West Newton, Mass., is serving a tour of three weeks' active duty in the Naval Reserve aboard a Naval vessel which is scheduled to visit Quebec, Canada, for several days during the cruise.

Services Held Wednesday For Judge Fred T. Field

Services for Judge Fred Tarbell Field, 73, Chief Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court from 1938 to 1947, who died Sunday at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre. Burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

Judge Field, who made his home at 36 Fairmont avenue, Newton, was one of the youngest men ever appointed to the Supreme Judicial bench and was one of the few to be appointed without first serving in the lower courts. He was appointed to the court by Governor Allen in January, 1929, coming to the bench from the Boston law firm of Goodwin, Proctor, Field and Hoar.

Appointed chief justice in June, 1938, by the late Governor Hurley, he was the second member of his family to head the Supreme Court. His uncle, Walbridge A. Field, had served as chief justice from 1890 to 1899.

Respected and loved by all associated with him, Judge Field was known as a friendly, kindly man who retained his human touch through a life of legal and social scholarship, a man who went out of his way to see that the humblest petitioner before his court got his full measure of justice.

Appointed as Purchasing Agent For Harvard

Mr. Robert S. Mullen of 87 Manchester road, Newton Highlands, has been named Purchasing Agent for Harvard University, succeeding Prescott Vose, who resigned to become Comptroller of the University of Maine.

The appointment was announced by Mr. Edward Reynolds, Administrative Vice President of the University, who is in charge of Harvard business affairs.

Mr. Mullen, a native of Hingham, Mass., was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1939 and from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1941. After brief service in the Bethlehem Steel Company's Fore River Shipyard, he entered the United States Naval Reserve in 1942. He served in the Bureau of Ships from 1942 to 1947, and left the service with the rank of Lieutenant Commander. He has been Assistant Purchasing Agent of Harvard University since 1947.

More than 25 percent of all children under seven years of age have speech defects. The best time for correction is before the child enters school, according to Miss Catherine C. She urges parents of children entering school in the Fall to start speech correction work now before the mimicry of schoolmates makes them self-conscious.

Attends Summer Session at GM Institute

Edward A. Hingston, teacher at the Newton Trade School, was among fifty college and trade school teachers of auto mechanics from 23 states and five provinces of Canada attending summer sessions at General Motors Institute, central educational and training agency for General Motors, Flint, Michigan.

The Auto Mechanics Teacher Training program was first presented by General Motors in 1933 as the result of requests from teachers for information on passenger car and truck specifications and adjustments.

Throughout the program current models in the General Motors line of cars are displayed, and engines are available for use as instructional aids, and trips to General Motors plants and laboratories are so coordinated as to make them an integral part of the program.

Particular attention also is paid to Power Glide, Dynaflo and Hydra-Matic transmissions and late developments in such things as instruction methods and procedure; car and truck specifications and adjustments; gasoline and Diesel engines; bodies; maintenance tools and procedures; service operation and equipment; the automobile business, and vocational guidance.

The program is one of the Institute activities open to people other than those directly connected with the divisions of General Motors or its distributors and dealers.

During the history of the program, teachers of auto mechanics and related subjects and vocational counselors from all states of the United States as well as all provinces of Canada have participated.

Contract Given For Repairs on Main Library

Henry Wile of Newton, lowest of four bidders, has been awarded the contract for the repairs on the Newton Free Library at Newton Corner. Public Buildings Commissioner Arthur Campbell announced.

The work, originally scheduled for the fall will begin this week, at a cost of $10,784.

Bids will be received in the fall for the addition to the building. This addition will consist of an extension of approximately 40 feet by 85 feet across the front of the building, and will include a basement room and one room on the first floor. The library building now being set back from the street 100 feet, the addition will be set back between 50 and 60 feet, leaving room for a lawn and shrubbery.

Committee Plans Day for Candidate

"R" Day, sponsored by the committee for Alice M. Waters for Representative, will be held in Wards 4, 5 and 6 on Monday, August 14.

Cars will call for and return to their homes all those, over twenty-one, who have lived in Massachusetts one year and in Newton for six months, and who wish to register for voting.

The committee has learned that there are many unregistered voters in Newton due to lack of transportation facilities or responsibilities at home. The committee wants to remedy this situation, therefore, on August 14 (from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m.) it will provide cars for all and baby-sitters for husbands and wives who wish to register together.

For a trip to the City Hall call Alice Waters, DE 2-0347 or Priscilla Marple, LA 7-5071 any evening.

Less Double Talk

As our nation is brought closer day by day to stark fundamentals and as its citizens watch with growing concern the critical situation in Korea, it might be well that we have a moratorium declared on the double-talk which now makes up most of the empty sound and fury in cigarette advertising.

With many of our leaders in Washington telling us that this country faces many years of austerity while girding for defense, it does seem somewhat of an anomaly for companies to spend millions to insult our intelligence with the absurd claims and counter-claims that haven't a thought in a carload.

Appropos of this, it is true that the Federal Trade Commission has made the following statements in cease and desist orders prohibiting false and misleading advertising by various concerns:

1. All cigarettes contain varying amounts of nicotine and throat irritants, and there is no reliable basis in fact for advertising claims that one brand is superior to another in these respects.
2. The nicotine content of the smoke of a cigarette is in direct proportion to the nicotine content of the tobacco contained in the cigarette itself.
3. The tobaccos used by the manufacturers of all the leading cigarette brands contain nicotine in substantially the same quantities and variations.
4. The smoke from all the leading brands of cigarettes contains throat irritants in essentially the same quantities and degree.
5. Cigarette smoke is an "irritant" . . . containing, as it does, the substances carbon dioxide, carbon monoxide, nicotine, ammonia and various aldehydes, including formaldehyde, tars and formic acid.
6. The smoke from all the leading brands of cigarettes contains all these irritating substances in essentially the same quantities and degree.
7. The smoke will irritate disordered throats and excessive smoking of any brand will irritate even throats in normal healthy condition.
8. The tars and resins in the smoke from all cigarettes have an irritating effect on the human body.
9. It is impossible for a manufacturer to produce a large volume of cigarettes with a standard content of nicotine and throat irritants.
10. Nicotine is not a therapeutic agent for any purpose.
11. The only physiological effect cigarette smoking can have upon digestion, if it has any at all, is harmful.
12. There is in tobacco smoke no constituent which could possibly create energy.
13. Smoking has an adverse effect upon the endurance and energy by causing an increase in pulse rate and a rise in blood pressure and by depriving the smoker of oxygen.
14. Excessive smoking, regardless of the condition of the smoker's nerves, will not be soothing, comforting or restful.

Current Comment

Dever's Road Improvements a Political Asset . . . Legislators Often Change Vote on a Roll Call . . . Many Republican Leaders Supporting Gen. Needham . . .

Some of the motorists are all but overwhelmed by the politeness and courtesy of the signs at State highways where road-building projects are underway.

Nobody ever apologized to them, before for repairing a highway or even tearing it up, and some of them can't quite get used to the idea.

It was first brought to our attention by a woman who had driven from New Hampshire down across Massachusetts and who stopped and gazed in undisguised astonishment at a sign where a road construction job was underway.

The sign apologized to motorists for the inconvenience the work was causing them but added that it would be a big improvement when the job was completed. Underneath it was the signature of Paul A. Dever.

This political observer is not prepared to make any prediction as to how Governor Dever will fare when he stands for reelection to a second term next November. Too many things can happen between now and then to influence the ebb and flow of the political tides.

But one thing very certain is that Mr. Dever's big highway construction program and the polite regrets expressed at inconveniencing motorists where the jobs are underway may prove one of the Governor's big campaign assets.

Whatever else Mr. Dever may do during his two years on Beacon Hill, he is going to leave the highways of Massachusetts in much better condition than when he assumed office.

Some of the cynics may be quick to point out that he is doing it with the people's money and that no political medals should be pinned to him for so doing.

However, there never has been a project yet which was financed with anything but the people's money, and the fact also is that

Mr. Dever, at least, is doing something about the highways of the State besides apologize for them to visitors.

The conviction is growing in some circles that unless a Republican trend starts between now and next November, Mr. Dever may prove a rather difficult person to unseat. It has been a long time since any Democratic Governor was reelected in Massachusetts. Joseph B. Ely was the last one, and he won his second term in 1932 when a man named Franklin D. Roosevelt also carried Massachusetts for the first time.

It has been almost as long since any Democratic candidate for Governor won election in anything but a Presidential year. One James M. Curley was the last to achieve that feat in 1934 when the popularity of the New Deal was rising.

Some observers think that under present conditions the job of being Governor is so tough that a man can't hold office for more than two years. That could be true, although it would mean that the voters of Massachusetts were a rather impatient lot.

Disregarding those factors, however, it can be stated that right now Mr. Dever is pretty well positioned for the fight ahead of him. He experienced a slump, but he had it early, and for the past several months his political stock has been on the rise.

That is not merely the opinion of this writer. It is the judgment of experienced, hard-bitten Republican politicians who have been cautioning their own party members against the folly of under-estimating Mr. Dever's strength. They don't say that he can't be defeated, but they do declare that he now looms up as anything but a soft political touch.

We suspect that those highway improvements, and the polite signs at the construction jobs have something to do with it.

Sometimes it seems to us that our elected legislators on Beacon Hill do not have the courage of their convictions.

From a gallery seat in the chambers where our House and Senate hold their deliberations and do their verbal gymnastics, we have noted that certain of our law-makers vote one way when it's off the record and the opposite way when they're being recorded.

There have been at least half a dozen occasions in the last week where a measure was killed on a voice vote and a standing vote. Then someone arose and demanded a roll call, and when the boys had to stand up and be counted they voted for the measure.

Perhaps that may come under the head of good government, but somehow we don't quite see it.

It would be nice to think that our Representatives and Senators are all sincere, conscientious men who place the public welfare above their own political well-being. While it would be nice to think so, it also would be far from correct.

Of course, the answer is that when the roll is called and the vote becomes a matter of record, some of the legislators gingerly back-track in deference to whatever pressure group is interested at the moment.

One of the things Republican politicians are wondering about is whether General Daniel Needham can maintain the present force and momentum of his drive for the G.O.P. nomination for Governor.

He started later than the other candidates, but in the last two and a half weeks he has certainly made up for lost time.

A large number of the party leaders, who had been sitting back waiting before committing themselves, have been boarding his bandwagon. Headed by National Committeeman Sinclair Weeks, they now comprise a pretty impressive array.

There is also a strong conviction in some Republican quarters that Needham is only beginning to show his political power and that he still has a substantial amount of strength to unveil when the time is strategic.

Mrs. Elsie Hayward of Bexhill, England, received a letter containing her lost ration books—minus the precious tea and candy coupons—but with a religious tract exhorting the reader to give thanks for daily blessings.

During an argument in his Baltimore home, William Sampson ripped the kitchen sink from the wall and threw it at his wife. That was what you might call being "plumb angry." The despatch doesn't say whether he hit or missed her.

When Robert B. Boyle of Portland, Me., told the court he was to be married in three days, Judge Edmund P. Mahoney suspended his $3.00 fine for a traffic violation with the comment, "you probably will need all your spare money." His Honor must be a married man.

While Volunteer Fireman Ruben Arrroliga was standing at the altar with his bride-to-be in Managua, Nicaragua, an alarm sounded. He immediately dashed off to answer it, instructed his prospective wife to wait while he helped to put out the blaze.

Hosea Savoy of Washington, D. C., had a ready explanation for burglarizing the same store three times. Said he: "It was near my home, and I didn't want to walk too far."

Arrested and fined $50 for representing himself as an FBI man, W. C. King of Tampa, Fla., insisted that the decision was erroneous and unfair since as an employee of Florida Builders, Inc., he is an FBI man. The judge was unimpressed by that explanation.

The reason he had climbed up into a loaded municipal garbage truck and driven away with it, William Niacharico explained to Brooklyn police, was that it was a nice day, "and I felt like taking a ride." William is obviously a man who feels like obeying an impulse.

The risk of war will multiply, and fast, if Russia gains in the race for industrial power.

Letters

Editor of Graphic:

I would like to make known my denouncement of brochures containing a list of endorsers used for political purposes at election time. I discover that this practice makes the endorser open for attack and in turn cheapens the reputation of both the endorser and the candidate that the endorser endorsed. That is the reason why I disapprove of the traditional method of political advertising with the use of the endorser's names.

Being Americans we like to pride ourselves in saying that we have the right to vote secretly at the polls without the implications of having it known whom you voted for publicly announced. Publicly endorsing candidates in the brochure type method or any other type method violates that secrecy that in the past we struggled so hard to obtain.

GORDON L. HAWES

To the Editor:

The Dever administration appears to have hit upon a technique for getting dubious or controversial matters through the Legislature. This method is merely a matter of delaying the session until late in the summer in order to outlast the Republicans. It was worked last year with tremendous success. During the hot August afternoons, pension grabs for legislators, fat increases in pay, with special bonuses to floor leaders and committee chairmen, were passed. Three or four unnecessary judgeships were created, an uncollectible tax on pipe tobacco and cigars was put over, and the 22 million dollar supplemental budget was adopted, giving jobs to over a thousand Dever henchmen.

None of these measures could have passed the Legislature had they been brought up at the normal time, from January to June. Many of them did not go through the regular committee channels and were not given the usual public hearings. Civic groups, such as the Chamber of Commerce, labor unions, women's clubs, parent-teacher associations, and League of Women Voters, had discontinued their meetings for the summer. Civic minded citizens and businessmen were away on vacations and it was not too difficult to put one over.

It was freely predicted by members of both parties that this year would be different, because it was a campaign year. Many observers thought that the Democrats would be willing to get through to campaign for reelection. Also, it was pointed out they had already installed most of the new appointees and embarked upon the new projects, so they would not need further legislation of this kind. These predictions must be substantially revised. Many of the Democrats, particularly those from Greater Boston, find it a help rather than a hindrance to run their campaign for reelection from the State House. They can make use of the State House telephones, clerks and stationery, and the reports of the session give them newspaper space which is better than paid advertising. By contrast, the bulk of the Republican legislators come from outlying districts. A prolonged session ties them up far from their home town and puts them at a disadvantage in campaigning. Their distant doings are less likely to be reported in the local press. In addition to all this, there is also the fact that the Dever administration still wants to add new jobs, or to give pensions or life tenure to temporary employees.

The organization of the Legislature makes it possible for the legislative leaders to delay or expedite legislative business. The leaders appoint the members of the key committees, such as Rules, Ways and Means, and Bills in the Third Reading, which regulate the flow of legislation. Dozens of important measures have been intentionally bottled up in these committees so that they cannot be acted upon by the House and Senate. It is easy enough to find an excuse for delaying a bill in committee. For example, House Ways and Means were holding approximately 100 matters according to the last bulletin and Senate Ways and Means about 30.

The suggestion made by Mr. MacDonald of the Taxpayers Association that the session should terminate at a fixed date has great merit from this point of view. A number of states which have such provision seem to benefit thereby. Incidentally, Massachusetts is the only State in this part of the country to have its Legislature still in session at the present time. Business and professional men who are willing to devote their time for legislative service may well hesitate at the thought that they will have to do without a summer vacation and will be unable to schedule business transactions because of sessions that go on and on interminably.

Announces Candidacy for Republican Nomination

Alderman Paul S. Rich of 278 Franklin street, Newton, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Representative from the Fourth Middlesex District, comprising Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of this City of Newton. The primaries will be held on September 19.

Mr. Rich, a practicing attorney at law, was elected to the Board of Aldermen from Ward 7 last year. He is 32 years of age, married and has two daughters, and is a veteran. At present Mr. Rich is a member of the legislature, public works, parking and meter, and traffic committees of the Board of Aldermen. He has been active in civic and church affairs, and is a lifelong resident of Newton, having attended the Newton schools.

Commenting on his candidacy, Mr. Rich states: "Many friends throughout the north side of the city have asked me to consider the possibility of becoming a candidate for the Republican nomination to the Legislature. They have asked me to seek the office for the reason that they desire to see the Republican party become a party of constructive progressive leadership, one in which they as citizens will know that their party, and their representatives, have a positive approach to our current problems. It has always been my conviction that legislative problems must be approached from a constructive and positive viewpoint. The Republican party, it seems to me, can elect qualified young men who believe in a positive approach to current problems, and thus return the party to its rightful leadership."

"With this objective, I intend to justify the confidence of my friends and actively seek the Republican nomination."

Graduate From Burdett Among Class of 500

Seven Newton residents were among the 500 students graduated from Burdett College at their 71st annual commencement held at the John Hancock Hall on June 29.

The class was the largest in the college's history, and commencement speaker was Hiram N. Rasely, executive vice-president of Burdett and president of the National Federation of Private School Associations. His topic was "Qualities for Leadership."

Local students receiving diplomas in accounting were Harry Batcheller, 16 Whittemore road, Newton; Richard S. Styron, Newton, and Daniel T. Valenzano, 440 California street, Newtonville. Diplomas in accounting-business administration were awarded to Thomas W. Pachus, 17 Anita circle, Waban; Charles J. Pierce, 80 Austin street, Newtonville, and Chilton C. Stewart, 133 Elliot avenue, West Newton. Miss Lois Kniznik of 100 Brackett road, Newton, received a diploma from the college's stenographic secretarial division.

Sullivan Downs Baker 6-2 in Rival Match

In a friendly rival game, which has been played between the two for years, and as long as they have been able to lift tennis rackets, Mr. Baker, superintendent of Burr playground in Newton, and Leo Sullivan, instructor, squared off Wednesday evening, with Sullivan emerging as the victor, 6-2.

The match drew friends of both parties, and many suggestions were offered to both men having to do with their ability to move about the tennis court.

Emerson School Principal Resigns

The resignation of Mr. Arthur W. Howard, Principal of the Emerson School, was announced this week by Superintendent of Schools, Harold B. Gores. Mr. Raymond F. Cook, Principal of the Butler School in Belmont, was named as Mr. Howard's successor.

Mr. Howard leaves Newton to accept the principalship of the elementary school in Yuma, California, after fifteen years in Newton. He came to the Newton schools from Lakewood, Ohio in 1935, and was a member of the Weeks Junior High School faculty for thirteen years. In 1948 he served as elementary school principal in Amboy, California. The next year he was appointed to the principalship of the Emerson School.

Mr. Cook comes to Newton with fifteen years' experience in elementary education, twelve of which were in an administrative capacity. Following his graduation from the State Teachers College in Bridgewater, Mr. Cook accepted appointment as an elementary school teacher in Onset, Massachusetts, where he served for three years. In 1938, he was appointed to the principalship of the elementary school in Sandwich. He moved to Belmont Schools in 1939 as assistant principal of the Kendall School and in 1942 was assigned to the Butler School where he served in a similar capacity for three years. He was promoted to the principalship of the school in 1945.

Mr. Cook is a native of Sagamore, Massachusetts. He received his Bachelor's Degree from Bridgewater State Teachers College in 1935 and his Master's Degree from Boston University in 1945. He has also done graduate study at Teachers College, Columbia. Mr. Cook has had a distinguished record in the field of elementary education. His services as an instructor have been sought by teacher-training institutions. He has taught at Boston University, the State Teachers College in Farmington, Maine, and is this summer teaching Methods in Arithmetic at the State Teachers College at Presque Isle, Maine.

Mr. Cook is active in professional organizations. He is a member of the Massachusetts Elementary School Principals Association. He is presently serving as Chairman of the Greater Boston Study Group of the Massachusetts Elementary School Principals Association.

Newton Man Training At Camp Edwards

Sergeant Donald V. Bittenbender, 78 Langley road, Newton Center, of the 918th Ordnance Heavy Automotive Maintenance Company, has been on active duty since July 9 at Camp Edwards. The 918th is going through intensive field training for a period of 15 days in order to put into actual practice the experience and skills acquired during the regular drills at the Boston Army Base.

Sergeant Bittenbender served during the last war with the Army Training Group in the Western Pacific area. He has been in the service for seven years and among other decorations, has been awarded the order of Military Merit (Philippines).

In civilian life, he is employed by Brigham's, Inc., as store manager in Cambridge.

Railroads use about 3,000 wood caskets per mile.

Wins $1500 In Herald Contest

Mrs. Fred W. Herron of 230 Walnut street, Newtonville, was declared the third prize winner of the $1500 award in the recent Boston Herald contest.

Informed of her good fortune, Mrs. Herron said: "I never thought I'd win. I'd just about given up hope. I never, no never, won a thing before!"

The former Ruth Johnson of Wollaston, Mrs. Herron attended Quincy High School and was graduated from Northfield School for Girls and Cornell University. She worked at the MacMillan Company's Boston office, first as a secretary and then as head of the college and medical department.

While there, she met and married the office manager. Her step-daughter, Eleanor, will enter Cornell this fall.

Judge —

of Calvin Coolidge, he had a background similar to that of the late President and had many of Coolidge's famed Yankee traits. He had a quiet, dry humor and a deep feeling of humanity which typical Vermont reserve failed to conceal.

He was born in Springfield, Vt., on the day before Christmas, 1876. His father, Frederick Griswold Field, who kept a store in the village of North Springfield, served as Representative and Senator in the Vermont Legislature and finally as Bank Commissioner of Vermont. He was a descendant of Roger Williams and of Richard Warren who came over on the Mayflower.

His education began in the traditional little red schoolhouse. Later he attended Vermont Academy and during that time he spent his summers close to his uncle, the Chief Justice, whom he admired and who exerted great influence on him.

He graduated from the Academy and after a year of tending the North Springfield store, he entered Brown University. An honor student there, he was elected president of the senior class. He graduated Phi Beta Kappa in 1900 and entered Harvard Law School. At Harvard he continued his high scholastic record and graduated with honors in 1903.

Following his graduation he became a law clerk in the office of State Attorney General Herbert Parker and two years later was appointed an assistant attorney general. He held that position until 1912 under three attorneys general, handling most of the important taxation cases for the office.

In 1912 he entered private practice and later was appointed a solicitor in tax matters by the Treasury Department. Later in 1919, though a Republican, he was appointed by President Wilson as a member of the United States Advisory Tax Board.

After his return from Washington, he became a partner in the firm of Goodwin, Proctor, Field and Hoar at 84 State street. One of the largest collections of members of the bar ever to gather before the Supreme Judicial Bench were present for Justice Field's induction as Chief Justice on July 1, 1938.

Before his ascension to the bench Justice Field lectured on law at Boston University, Columbia University and Harvard Business School. He was a fellow of Brown University and was chairman of the committee which picked that school's new president, Dr. Clarence A. Barbour, to succeed William H. P. Faunce. A Baptist, he served as a trustee of Ford Hall, president of the Baptist Foreign Missionary organization and chairman of the trustees of Newton Theological Seminary.

In addition, he was the recipient of many outstanding honors and degrees by several colleges and was a member of many clubs and organizations.

Justice Field leaves a wife, the former Gertrude Alice Montague, whom he married in 1922; a daughter, Ann Montague Field, statistician of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics at Concord, N. H., and a sister, Miss Bertha Field of Springfield, Vt.

Medford Bowl Events Tonight

Two 25-lap main events will be held at the Medford Bowl tonight in addition to the regular race program which starts at 8 p.m. This twin bill has been scheduled because rain caused the cancellation of last Thursday's feature.

Ed Hoyle, the 23-year old Needham speed specialist, has got his new car and will be back in competition tomorrow night trying to stay in the top five in the point standings.

Many drivers are gaining experience with each night of racing, and a few of the men who are garnering points rapidly are George Berberian of Northboro, Len Harris of N. Scituate, Jerry Hourihan of Arlington, Joe Del Genio of Medway, Wayne Hannagan of Natick, Mickey McCarthy of Quincy, and Augie Walacack, Brockton.

Red Caster of Lynn will be among the top contenders for the checkered flag in the twin feature, but other stock car drivers who have their own ideas about this include Earl Anair of Waltham, "Trigger" Watson of Beverly, Fred Di Matteo of Newton, Ray Hill of Richburg, John Coneney of Waltham, Joe Garity of Woburn, and Frank Lindstrom of Cambridge.

Benefit Night For Hospital at Norwood Arena

Thursday, July 27, it will be St. Elizabeth's Hospital Benefit Night at the Norwood Arena. This show was scheduled for last Thursday but due to the very unfavorable weather, the Benefit night was carried forward to this Thursday.

This show will be the U. S. Stock Car Open Championship and will consist of eight big stock car races, a 50 lap feature with a beautiful trophy going to the winner, a spectacular fireworks show and music and marching exhibitions by crack C.Y.O. bands.

Coming in for this big show are six top-notch "outside" drivers who will attempt to defeat the local hot shots and by doing so take the $725 "Jackpot purse" and the honors as U. S. stock car champ.

The six outside drivers are Neil Cole, the N. J. state champ, Johnny Dubois, the Atlantic Racing Assn. Champ, Johnny Zeke, of Long Island, N. Y., Johnny Cartwright, of Atlanta, Georgia, hot shot of the southern circuit, "Jockey" Jockamo, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. star and George Landry, the Conn. State Champ.

The New England drivers do not fear the "outsiders," regardless of reputation or past performances. George Landry, the incoming Conn. driver, is very good at long races such as Thursday's 50 lap event. He has taken three 100 lap and one 50 lap feature so far this year and will be a definite threat Thursday in the 50 lap Norwood event.

All the stars and all the cars from the N.E.A.R. circuit, such as Red Cummings, Ralph Moody, Paul Veracka, George Lewis, Stan Woods, etc., will all be present to battle it out.

The Brady's Kennels at 1113 Washington street, West Newton, has shipped Mr. H. K. McKay's pet dog, Buff, to him in Madison, New Jersey. The dog has been boarded at the kennels, and is being sent to New Jersey where Mr. McKay of 93 Randlett park, West Newton, has been transferred by his company to a new post as accounting executive.

Overuse of Horns Annoying Says Registrar

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King today issued an appeal to Massachusetts motorists to be more considerate in the use of auto horns, particularly when used during the nighttime.

"Complaints are constantly being made to enforcement officials and to the Registrar's office about unnecessarily loud and raucous blasting of horns, causing extreme annoyance and discomfort to citizens," said Registrar King.

It was pointed out that Massachusetts law prohibits harsh, objectionable or unreasonable use of horns or other signaling devices in thickly settled or business districts, and that many communities have Ordinances or By-laws which specifically forbid the loud, disturbing and unreasonable use of horns or other signaling devices.

Thoughtlessness, lack of consideration and impatience are prime causes of needless horn blowing according to Registrar King, who asks motorists to respect the comfort, quiet, and repose of citizens, the nerves of other motorists, and above all to keep within the laws.

Vets' Quiz

Q—I am the widow of a World War II veteran, and I also served during the war in the WAC. Under a new law, I understand that I am an unmarried widow, am eligible for a GI home loan. But I also am eligible under my own rights as a veteran. Can I get two GI home loans, one as a widow and the other as a veteran?

A—No. Widows eligible for GI loans because of their own service are not entitled to additional loan benefits as widows.

Q—I graduated from high school under the GI Bill this June, and in the fall I'd like to go on to college, also under the GI Bill. Does VA consider this a change of course, and will I have to submit justification before I can enroll?

A—VA will not consider your college training as a change of course, so you will not be required to submit justification to take it. All you need do is obtain a supplemental certificate of eligibility from the VA regional office which maintains your records.

Q—My nephew was admitted to a VA hospital and I paid his train fare to get there. Is there any way the Government will refund the cost of the trip?

A—If VA authorized travel before the trip began, you may be entitled to a refund. Apply for it at the VA office or hospital that authorized transportation.

Q—If I enter a VA domiciliary home, may I accept outside employment and still remain in the home?

A—No. One of the requirements of eligibility for domiciliary care is that the veteran have a chronic disability or disease which prevents him from earning a living for a prospective period of time.

Veterans and their dependents who desire information concerning their benefits and entitlements are invited to send inquiries to this newspaper. Their questions and the answers will be published in this column.

CESSPOOLS SEPTIC TANKS, DRAINS, ETC.

Pumped Out

ELECTRICALLY and CHEMICALLY TREATED

Protect your family's health against polio and diphtheria by correcting or preventing overflowing cesspools and septic tanks. Our experience has been that pumping out a cesspool is not sufficient to guarantee continued satisfactory operation. That is why we specialize in electrical and chemical cleaning methods. First we remove all liquids and solids. Next we remove 3 to 6" of sand from the bottom. Then we drill, by special machine, holes down through the bottom at different angles. This breaks up the solid condition of same and makes channels of escape for the liquids which the cesspool receives. Then we install a 100-lb. treatment of "SOLVEX," a powerful chemical which introduces the bacteria action to the cesspool and keeps the solids at a minimum. "Peps-it" is Mother Nature's way of decomposing the solids, thereby preventing their accumulation. Call or write for descriptive literature.

MYRTLE, the giant snapping turtle, is one of the star performers among the live animal troupe which will visit the Newton Y.M.C.A.'s Camp Day in Brookfield on August 7.

Newton Boys to See Hayden Science Tour at Camp Day

Newton boys at Camp Frank A. Day, a Newton Y.M.C.A. camp in Brookfield, will have a chance to make some unusual new friends on August 7 when the Hayden Camp Tour, conducted by the Museum of Science, Boston, rolls into camp to spend a day.

The nature van which is visiting 40 non-profit camps throughout New England during the summer months, contains a number of live surprises such as Myrtle, the giant snapping turtle.

Many of the wild animal troupe can be handled by the boys, and all are demonstrated by Walter Brent, tour leader, and his assistant, Francis Rockett.

The tour, sponsored by the Charles Hayden Foundation, is in its fourth season. Last year, over 10,000 youngsters were reached by the camp visits.

The van spends a day at camp, and leaders conduct field trips, demonstrate the live animals as well as other nature education aids, and answer the scores of questions posed by eager campers.

In accepting the citation, Mr. Copell stated, "This is indeed an honor and one for which I am humbly grateful. The toll of lives lost through needless accidents is indeed appalling, and it through my efforts the public can be made to realize the need for accident prevention education, then I am justly rewarded. Safety is our most precious possession, and I pledge my future efforts for continued safety throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

America's oldest school of preventive medicine was established by Surgeon General George M. Sternberg of the Army Department, which is 175 years old on July 27.

Simplifies G.I. Study Changes

Veterans enrolled in schools which have counseling services of their own will have little difficulty in getting their desired before the Veterans Administration if they want to change G.I. Bill courses or take additional training, Thomas J. Hill, Commander of the Norfolk County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced this week.

Veterans in full-time training, Hill explained, who never before have changed their courses, may continue to follow a simplified plan set up for them late last year.

Under the plan, a veteran who wants to change a course or take additional training in a different general field need merely apply for guidance at his school—to the school's counseling service recommendations.

The counseling service will be provided at no extra cost to the veteran or the government. The VA will approve the veteran's application where the justification submitted is clearly adequate; where it is not, the veteran will continue to receive advisement and guidance from VA, as in the past, after which their cases will be determined.

The probability of a soldier in the United States Army dying of disease has decreased two-thirds in the past ten years, according to latest statistics of the Army Medical Department, marking its 175th Anniversary July 27.

Agent —

and energetic Miss Walsh, also finds time for painting, and has turned out some striking efforts of local scenes along the banks of the Charles River, where her one-story bungalow, built entirely of fieldstones, is set about 50 yards from the road. In these pleasant surroundings, contrasted with her previous office location in Boston's busy Back Bay section, she corresponds with authors, publishers, aspiring writers, and still continues to participate in the community's social life, and is a member of the Auburndale Art Association.

Only a week has past since Miss Walsh's return from abroad, but already she has taken up where she left off three months ago and is deep in literary matter. So much is demanded in her work that in an off moment she expressed desires to finish up her present commitments and take pen in hand herself for a stint at the writing trade.

This would be unique for Miss Walsh—she has written numerous children's books which have been published by the firm of Alfred Knopf, and bear such intriguing titles as: Molly The Rogue, The Mullingar Heifer, and The Widow And Her Goat. They are all delightful stories, drawn from Irish folklore, which is another of her side-line interests. A discerning observer while in Europe, in matters social, political, artistic, and cultural, her views and experiences, together with many years as a literary agent, would provide enjoyable and enlightening reading.

Born in Lewiston, Maine, Miss Walsh left to enter Trinity College in Washington, then took her Master's degree at Radcliffe, specializing in comparative literature. Such noted educators as Copeland Kittredge and George Baker were her teachers and while at Radcliffe did work on an edition of the Letters of William James, the Harvard philosopher.

Leaving formal education, she returned to the field of literature and became associated with the Atlantic Monthly for a few years, then to the staff of the Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston book publishers. This training prepared her for her present role of agent in the literary world.

Before leaving for her Roman excursion, Miss Walsh successfully closed a business transaction with the Alfred Knopf publishing firm, for a story by a blind World War II veteran, called I'll Be Seeing You, which was told to Miss Elizabeth Winpenny, who wrote the book. Miss Winpenny is also a Newton resident, living at 174 Mount Vernon street, Newtonville, and does rewrites on manuscripts that need doctoring.

Also of World War II theme is a novel written by William Maier, with the fascinating title, Pleasure Island, which Miss Walsh placed and has since brought out in the pocket-size Bantam Books. This too, like Tom Savage's novel, has been purchased by a movie company for future filming. It would seem that Miss Walsh offers the way not only to literary success, but also paves the way to Hollywood's silver screen.

Concerning her stay in Rome and a brief sojourn in Switzerland, Miss Walsh is very enthusiastic. The highest emotional point of her visit to Rome was reached during her audience with the Pope, and then in days following, stood for hours in the square of St. Peter's with thousands of pilgrims waiting for a glimpse of the Holy See. Untiring and with an artist's sincere love of painting and sculpture, she roamed the ancient city seeking out all the artistic wonders, gathering beautifully photographed post-cards of architectural splendor and reproductions of famous religious paintings by Renaissance masters. Miss Walsh's favorites are Andrea del Sarto, Florentine painter, and the awe-inspiring works of Michelangelo.

The sheer natural grandeur of the Swiss Alps, and its many small villages nestled amongst the ranges left Miss Walsh breathless. Snow-capped mountain peaks in the distance presented nature's own artistic hand, and vied with the art of man for Miss Walsh's affection.

Newton's touring citizen left Rome, going to Cherbourg, France and boarded the Queen Elizabeth for her return voyage.

Church of Christ Scientist

"Love" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday, July 30. Golden Text: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God." (I John 4:7).

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James version) include:

"And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (I John 4:16). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"That God is a corporeal being, nobody can truly affirm." (p. 140-4). "God is Love." More than this we cannot ask, higher we cannot look, farther we cannot go." (p. 6:17-18).

dening tools and machinery will be on display. Tractors, motor cultivators, hand cultivators, weeder, seeders, sprayers, dusters, several makes of irrigation systems, and all manner of equipment necessary in modern gardening will be at the disposal of visitors for actual trial under practical conditions. If you are interested in adding certain pieces to your farming or gardening equipment, or any particular labor-saving device, come and try it before you buy it. If it is up-to-date, it will be on hand.

Manufacturers and distributors of farm and garden supplies and equipment who wish to exhibit and demonstrate on this date should communicate with Professor Paul W. Dempsey, 240 Beaver street, Waltham. The flower gardens at the Waltham Field Station contain several hundred varieties. These plants are all plainly labeled in such a way that the visitor can make a list and purchase plant materials from nurseries for his home.

A caterer will be in attendance and there will be plenty to eat at a reasonable cost. Or, you may prefer to bring a picnic lunch, as many do.

The Field Station lies to the northeast of Waltham Center, between Waverley and Waltham (Route 60) on Beaver street. The hours are from 1 o'clock to 8 o'clock.

While admission to this educational and interesting exhibit is free, voluntary contributions are accepted. The money the Disabled American Veterans receives from these voluntary contributions will be used by DAV State Department in your state, and the local chapters of the DAV in the state where the contributions are made, to help them continue their many services to the disabled veterans.

Disabled American Veterans is a non-profit national service organization, chartered by special Act of Congress in 1933, the membership of which is composed exclusively of men and women who were wounded, injured, gassed or disabled as a result of their honorable service in the armed forces of the United States during a period of war.

We will appreciate any special courtesies and consideration you can extend.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Vivian D. Corbly
National Adjutant

The acknowledgment stated that Mayor Lockwood and Chief of Police Purcell have approved the request for the proposed exhibit with the suggestion that the Traffic Division of the Newton Police Department be advised of the probable dates which are being scheduled for Newton in order that they may consider the space which necessarily must be assigned.

The Disabled American Veterans were also wished every success in this extraordinary venture.

... BEGINNING THURSDAY, JULY 27

"The Handclasp that grew into Stearns"

...again broadens the scope of its influence as we open our beautiful new store. We open it simply, with little ceremony, but with the same warm friendliness which has been a cherished tradition with our customers ever since 1847... when Richard H. Stearns stood before his little shop with a smile and a handclasp for all who came to browse or to buy.

Here is a suburban store with many new features to make shopping enjoyable. It's easy to reach by automobile. There's ample parking space on the store property, convenient to all entrances. Inside there are wonderfully wide aisles, almost a half acre of shopping space. Nearly everything is on one floor. Choose your entire outfit easily... it's just a step from dresses to shoes and gloves, bags and hats. Here is welcome spaciousness, with no crowding. You'll quickly notice the huge window walls which flood the store with daylight. Here you'll never need wonder "how will the color look outside?" And as you shop, you can look out on scenery of rural beauty... the pond, the wooded hills, the soft landscaping. Nature will change the scenery with the seasons... but inside you'll have no care for the weather at any time, because there's year 'round air-conditioning.

With all these new advantages, you'll find at Stearns-Chestnut Hill the traditional integrity, the friendly atmosphere, and the truly high quality merchandise for which our Boston store has been famous for more than a century.
